In police court this morning Judge Enright sentenced Joaquin Aleos to one year in the house of correction for assault upon 12-year-old Lena Perry last Friday. The defendant appealed and was held for the superior court in the sum of $500.

Milk Below Standard

Milk Inspector Melvin M. Masters had George F. Noyes in court this morning for a breach of the law regulating the standard at which milk can be sold. Mr. Noyes sells milk to the large bakeries here and carries his milk in ten gallon cans. On April the 24th eight samples were taken from these cans and all of them, when analyzed by the milk inspector, were found to be below the standard. The defendant was given the lightest penalty that the law allows, a fine of $50.

Lobster Seller Fined

Charles Parascandola, was charged with selling lobsters without a license and pleaded guilty to the charge. He applied for a license but was turned down. That, however, did not deter Charles in the least from getting rid of what lobsters he had on hand, and consequently he was arrested. He was fined $5.

Always in the Way

Thomas McCaffrey was in court to plead to a complaint charging him with obstructing the sidewalk. According to the testimony of Officer Castles, the arresting patrolman, Young McCaffrey, in company with several others, persist in hanging around the corner of Broadway and School streets even after being warned by the officer. McCaffrey has been in court before on the same charge. He told the court that there were some fifteen fellows in the group which Officer Castles had reference to but that they only loitered a short time around the street. The court imposed a fine of $15 upon the defendant and warned him not to be brought into court again on a like charge.

Drunkard Offenders

Rachel Lyman, a third offender for drunkenness, was sent to jail for a term of four months. Thomas J. Ellis and Samuel E. Barry, two parole men from the state farm, were found guilty of drunkenness and their cases held over until tomorrow for sentence.

David Sheehan, Walter Durgin, William J. Kelley and Emilie Perrin were all fined $5 for their second appearance before the local court within a year on the charge of drunkenness.
There were six $2 drunks and three releases by Probation Officer Slattery.

In these days of tariff agitation, labor troubles and ominous presaging his gladness and refreshing to meet a mill man who is looking on the bright side of things; a man who is sufficiently optimistic to penetrate the dark clouds and seek with earnestness and confidence the silver lining.

Agent John J. Connell of the Tremont & Suffolk mills is that kind of a man. He doesn't cross a bridge till he comes to it and never bids trouble
'good morning' till he meets it. A reporter for The Sun called at the Tremont & Suffolk mills yesterday to find out about a new outfit flannel that was being manufactured there and also to ascertain if it were true that Agent Connell was unable to hire all the help he wanted.

The reporter was ushered into Mr.
Connell's office and the conversation devoted to the tariff and its possible effect upon the textile industry of the country. "The tariff," said Mr. Connell, "is undoubtedly causing some alarm, like heavy clouds portend the storm."

AGENT JOHN J. CONNELL

storm. But you know it is a fact that sometimes the storm doesn't break.
Undoubtedly there will come some change in the tariff, but there is no sense in howling before you're hit."

Short One Hundred Hands

"Is it true that you are short of help?" queried the reporter.
"Yes," replied Mr. Connell. "I am at least 100 hands short today. It seems almost incredible that with 3000 operatives out of employment in Lawrence, and large congregations of the idle in the streets and parks of this city, that we should have to go shy on help."

"Possibly these people don't know we are short of help. In fact I think that must be the case, for I feel sure that if they knew a great many of them would prefer to work rather than remain idle. We were speaking of the tariff a minute ago and I might suggest that with the tariff clouds hanging over us and the possibility, as has been stated in the press and by men in the business, that the mills may have to go on short time, it would be to the advantage of the unemployed to get a few leaves ahead. I would like to run full but I must have help to do it. We are using 1200 bales of cotton a week at the present time and if we were running full we would be using between 1400 and 1500 bales."

New Outfit Flannel

In reply to the reporter's query relative to the new outfit flannel, Mr.
Connell said: "Certain lines of our goods that used to be carried by the primers have not been selling profitably for the past few years and we concluded not to make any of these goods this year. In their place we are making an outfit flannel which we call the 'Lawrence Domet.' This has caught on in great shape with the trade and we hope to have a large run.
We are running several hundred looms on this flannel at the present time."

Card of Thanks

At this time we express our heartfelt thanks to kind friends and neighbors who have brought words of sympathy, beautiful floral offerings and other kindly articles to cheer the grief we feel at the removal from our midst of our dear one, Mrs. Mary A. Condon. We hope to secure all that such evidences of sympathy for us in the hour of our greatest sorrow will be held in loving remembrance in the days to come.

Respectfully,
John J. Condon,
Mrs. Catherine Carroll and family,
Miss Elizabeth O'Brien,
John Quinn and family.

The case of Commissioner George H.
Brown against Dennis A. Long in a suit to recover for the publication of alleged libelous matter in a Sunday paper owned by the defendant, was resumed at the opening of the superior court session this morning, at the court house in Gorham street. Mr. Winfred MacBrayne, city editor of the paper in question, and formerly private secretary of Mr. Brown when the latter was mayor of Lowell, was called to the stand. His testimony centered principally about the police board matter. He was first questioned by Mr. Murphy and his answers were in part as follows:

"Whether or not there were any arrangements by yourself and Mr. Brown regarding the removal of the license commissioners?"

The plaintiff's attorneys objected.
After some discussion the court admitted the question and the answer was:

"There were—very shortly after the mayor took office we prepared—"

"Who do you mean by 'we'?"

"The mayor and I talked it over first about preparing evidence against the police board. The mayor hired at that time, I recall, two out-of-town men as detectives or spotters and they were used to gather evidence against the police board. The mayor, I recall, paid them out of his own pocket."

"How were they paid?"

"I believe by check."

"Who wrote out the checks?"

"On one occasion I wrote the check and the mayor signed it."

"Whether or not this was known to anyone other than yourself and Mr.
Brown, if you know?" (Objected to by opposing counsel and finally admitted by court.)

"No one but the mayor and myself and Constable Saville, who was used to get the men from out of town."

Referring to the alleged libelous article, Mr. Murphy's last question was:

"Who wrote those articles, Mr. Mac-Brayne?"

"I wrote all the articles except the advertisements," was the reply.

In the cross-examination the plain-tiff's counsel took up this latter reply, asking witness if he really meant he wrote those articles, and several times the same question was put in various ways.

Each time witness replied that he wrote all the articles except the advertisements.

"Did you ever tell Mr. Brown that all the articles were written by Mr.

Long?"

"No, I did not," and then in reply to another question witness said: "I wrote everything except the advertisements."

At the end of Mr. MacBrayne's testimony the defense rested and Mr. John J. Harvey, Esq., opened his summing up argument for the defense. His argument occupied the remainder of the time up to the 11 o'clock recess, when court adjourned for 15 minutes.

When the jury and the court returned at the end of the brief respite,
Mr. Albert S. Howard opened the argument for the plaintiff. The summing up of both the plaintiff's side and of the defense occupied a long period, for the respective attorneys in addressing the jury considered in detail every phase of the case. In regard to the alleged libelous matter which the plaintiff charges was published in Mr.
Long's paper, the defense held that under the circumstances the articles were a fair bona fide criticism of political conditions. On the other hand, the plaintiff's counsel argued that articles taken together were libelous matter, inferring that plaintiff had been bribed to vote for Mr. Boulger.

Both sides went deeply into the subject of the police board affair and the election of Thomas P. Boulger.

Mr. Howard argued that if the jury find that the articles in question taken together infer that Mr. Brown was bribed to vote for Mr. Boulger then the verdict must be for the plaintiff. Mr. Howard repeated this several times in the course of his summing up address to the jury.

It was nearly one o'clock when Mr.
Howard concluded and Judge Pratt began his charge to the jury. He opened with a review of the charges of the plaintiff in the case and the grounds on which the suit was brought, saying that plaintiff claims the articles were libelous and injurious inasmuch as they infer that he accepted a bribe. The defense, said Judge Pratt, maintains that the articles in question were exhortations to the voters, criticisms, etc. and that in them there was nothing personal to the plaintiff, any more than to the dozen or more other candidates for public office. These, the court observed to be the attitudes of the opposing parties. These, he said to the jurymen, constitute the only matter for them to consider in the case. The verdict of Mr. Brown for Mr. Boulger, the police board matter, of which the court said there is no doubt, gave rise to an occasion upon which it is the privilege of a newspaper to comment and criticize conditions, provided the paper does so in good faith and in the manner in which the defendant claims his publication did. In such a case, the verdict must be for the defendant. It is for the jury to determine whether or not the articles taken as a whole do charge Mr. Brown with having taken a bribe, not because the plaintiff thinks they did, nor from what Mr. Long claims he intended by the articles.

"If you find that the articles 'taken together' do make such a charge against the plaintiff, then the verdict must be for the plaintiff," said Judge Pratt in conclusion. The entire charge occupied but twenty minutes.

The court told the jury to go to dinner then, and on their return at two o'clock, they took up the consideration of the case.

FOURTH ANNUAL BANQUET OF LOWELL TEACHERS

Held In Assembly Hall at State Normal School

Large Number of Invited Guests Enjoyed Program

REPRESENTATIVE OTIS BUTLER

The assembly hall of the state normal school was the scene of a very brilliant and a very happy throng last evening when the Lowell teachers' organization gathered there to hold their fourth annual banquet. It was the most ambitious of such celebrations, and was deplorable in the most successful by those present. At the guest table sat the members of the school board and eminent educationalists, Mr. Mayor O'Donnell, Senator Draper, and Representatives Butler, Jewett, Murphy, Toomey and Williams. Mrs.
O'Donnell accompanied the mayor, and Mrs. Butler and Mrs. Williams also were present.

The large banquet hall was filled to its capacity, and made a brilliant picture as the gowns of the ladies were very elaborate in most cases, lending a very charming color effect to the celebration. The tables were decorated with bouquets of cut flowers.
Proceeding the banquet and at intervals
during the evening Hibbard's orchestra played many selections. One unusual feature, and one that is deserving of mention, was the arrangement of the addresses which were given at intervals throughout the dinner instead of being held over until the end as is usual in affairs of this nature.

One of the most notable features of the evening was the singing of Mr.
Albert Edmund Brown who gave sev-lators and Others

welcome to the state school.

Sent, Molloy Spoke

Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of schools, was the next speaker. He referred to the pleasant recollections which a visit to the normal school brings to him as it calls back memories of the pleasant and happy years he spent there as teacher. Continuing he said, "We can realize from the beauty and impressiveness of this splendid building the importance which the state places in her greatest interest—the education of the people. It demonstrates this interest even in matter of things." He then referred to the links that bind him with the efforts of the teacher, saying in part, "Although fully realizing the importance of my new position I am still much more the teacher than I ever hope to be the superintendent. My sympathies are with you, and tonight I rejoice with you. I am one of you but I am also called to be here in my professional capacity as superintendent to encourage you in the work you have set out to do. Banded together you can accomplish much."

Dr. Lambert For School Board

Dr. John H. Lambert was then introduced. He said that the school committee acts as the directors of a large

Attempt to Wreck Large Edifice in London, England

Infernal Machine Was Discovered This Morning

LONDON, May 7.—An attempt today to wreck St. Paul's cathedral with a bomb is placed to the account of the militant suffragettes. The infernal machine was discovered by the verger, who conducts sightseers through the vast building, when he was making his rounds about 8 a. m. He noticed a ticking sound near the high altar and upon investigation found beneath a chair beside the bishop's throne at the head of the choir a heavy parcel done up in brown paper. He carried the parcel away, plunged it in a pail of water and then called the police who carried it off to Bridewell police station and afterward had it removed to the home office for expert examination. The bomb was painted black and contained two detonators attached to an electric battery. It was filled among other things with a substance resembling pieces of coal. The police are confident that it was placed in position by militant suffragettes or persons in their employ.

"Small but fiendishly powerful" is the police officers' description of the bomb. When the machine was taken to pieces it was discovered that it was timed to explode at midnight but a derangement of the clock work retarded the explosion. Apparently only this accident prevented serious damage being done to the cathedral.

A number of brass screws and nails were found among the contents.

MANY CHILDREN AS LOBBYISTS

Galleries of House Filled With Them When Bill Extending School Age Was Under Discussion

Yesterday was children's day at the state house. Children lobbyists took the place of the regular third house on the bill which extends the age to 15 within which a child must go to school. The galleries were filled with children who were brought there by friends of the bill. The bill was debated all day.

Mr. Doyle of New Bedford opposed the bill as a hardship upon the parents of large families, especially in the lowly centers of the state. He said in his own city there are many large families, ranging from four to ten children, and he said in such cases it would be a tremendous hardship on every member of the family if the eldest child were prohibited from going to work. In such families, he said, it is usually impossible, and always improper, to permit the mother to work, because the younger children need her attention, and the only means of livelihood left is the father and on a wage ranging from $6 to $12 and $12 a week he cannot properly clothe and feed his family.

Mr. J. M. Griffin of Somerville defended the bill as a means of protecting the health of the young, and insisting that to secure additional education. He said organized labor is slowly coming to favor legislation of this kind, from a purely economic standpoint, because its members realize that the employment of children lessens the opportunity for employing men, and also reduces the wages of men. He made a strong plea that the children should be given the additional year of school.

Mr. E. F. McGrath of Boston said the passage of the bill will have no effect upon the father who desires and is able to keep his children in school after they pass the age of 14, for every father is anxious that his children shall have all the education possible. It will, however, inflict a needless hardship upon those families which cannot afford to allow the eldest child to remain in school after passing that age.

Mr. Mulvey of Fall River opposed the bill, making the point that the present limit, 14 years, was fixed because it allowed nine years in which a child entering the public schools at the age of five may complete the common school course. Mr. Griffin of Barnstable said this is the best reason why another year should be added to the limit, because the present age does not permit children to get into the high school, he said it has been shown that a large proportion of those who reach the high school and remain there for a single year remain for the whole course, and it is therefore desirable that the age limit be increased so as to ensure at least one year of attendance in high school.

Mr. W. J. Sullivan of Boston said he has strong sympathy for the children, and is as desirous as anyone that they should be given all possible education, but he urged the members to consider the other side of the story, and to remember that if this year is added to the age limit, means in many cases that the widow will be required to spend another year wearing out her lines and arms to scrubbing floors in the great office buildings. The bill was favored by Messrs. Gifford of Barnstable, Greenwood of Everett, Wood of Gardner, Merrill of Haverhill and Donovan of Boston, and was opposed by Messrs. H. F. Sullivan, E. F. McGrath of Boston, T. D. Sullivan of Fall River, W. J. Sullivan of Boston and Harrington of Fall River. The hour for taking a recess cut off debate.

Normal School System

The committee on education reported a resolve directing the state board of education to report to the next general court as to the adequacy of the present normal school system, and as to whether the present schools are located in such places as best serve the interests of the entire commonwealth.

Senate Committee's Report

In the senate, yesterday, the following reports of committees were received:

Pachyderms and Game.—No legislation necessary on the recommendation of the commission on economy and efficiency for a change in the organization of the fish and game commission.

Street Railways.—Leave to withdraw to James Cummings on his petition for legislation relative to investment and issue of bonds by street railway companies.

Ways and Means.—Ought to pass on the following bills, that preference shall be given to citizens of the commonwealth in the employment of labor on the construction of public works; also for the publication by the secretary of the commonwealth of returns of vote cast at primaries. Subsequently, there being no objection, the report of the last named bill was withdrawn.

"EVERY LITTLE OLIVE TABLET HAS A MOVEMENT ALL ITS OWN"

Your doctor will tell you ninety percent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver. Dr. Edwards, a well known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Olive Tablets, the substitute for cod-liver oil, are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of harmful impurities.

It provides that whoever sells or offers for sale for food or drink any diseased animal or product thereof, or tainted or corrupt meat, fish or vegetables, except when packed in a container, that upon reasonable inspection, the condition of the contents thereof cannot be ascertained, without making the condition of the thing sold to the buyer, shall be punished by fine or not more than $200, or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. The bill as amended was then advanced to a third reading without debate.

PLEASING RURAL SKETCH

Presented at Kirk Street Church Vestry

"The Village Post Office," presented last night in the vestry of the Kirk Street church, was highly enjoyed by a large attendance. The piece, an exceedingly humorous one, was very well interpreted by those who took part and altogether, the presentation was a huge success.

The play as given last night was most realistic and the stage effects and properties were very cleverly arranged. The actors used to advantage the flexibility of the lines, turning them to appropriate and funny local hits. The scene of the group about the stove and the cracker barrel delighted the audience and kept them in continual laughter. Every member of the cast upheld his or her part most commendably and contributed materially to the enjoyment which the play afforded. The cast of characters was as follows:

AVIATOR ATWOOD SUED

Birdman's Wife Seeks Divorce

RENO, Nov. 7.—Sarah J. Atwood, wife of Harry N. Atwood, the aviator, yesterday filed a libel for divorce in the district court here. Mrs. Atwood alleges desertion and asks for the custody of a minor child. It is not believed that Atwood will contest the action.

Mrs. Atwood, before her marriage to Harry N. Atwood, was a Miss Jenkins of Lynn. She came to Reno about Nov. 1 of last year with her 2-year-old daughter, and rented a suite in a fashionable apartment house on the south side of the city. Mrs. Atwood had been in Reno for six weeks before it became generally known, having apparently used every possible means to keep her identity a secret.

She used the simple name Mrs. Atwood, devoid of her own initials or that of her husband. At that time her efforts to maintain secrecy caused the circulation of a report that she came to Reno for the purpose of obtaining a divorce.

She at first evaded the subject when asked directly concerning her visit, but later declared positively that she did not come here for that purpose.

At that time she told the newspaper men that she did not desire to talk about her private affairs, and declined to be interviewed at length, refusing even to answer the simple question as to where she came from to Reno.

OFFICERS ELECTED

Junior Holy Name Society Held a Big Meeting—Boys Congratulated by Rev. Fr. Sullivan

The annual election of officers of the Junior Holy Name society of the Immaculate Conception church was held at a largely attended meeting of the organization last night. The result of the election was as follows: President, James Sullivan; vice president, Harold O'Brien; and secretary, John Barrett. The following were chosen as prefects for the year: Thomas Carlin, William Conroy, Frank O'Shea, William Welch, Philip McCarron, John O'Connell, Harry O'Dowd, Anthony Egan, Frank Mc-

Cabe, James Coleman, James McKay and Frank Davis.

Rev. Fr. Sullivan, who is the guide and chief factor in the strength and enthusiasm of the organization, addressed the boys, congratulating them upon their perseverance and interest in the society, explaining to them the great end of the organization and the duties of members. A field day is being planned for the summer, and the boys show much interest in this event. There will be baseball games and field sports and a general good time.

CHILD FELL TWO STORIES

Little Girl Had Narrow Escape

The ambulance had two calls in quick succession this morning. Both of them were in answer to accidents to small children who had suffered minor injuries. A child by the name of Adrienne, daughter of 292 Cheever street, fell out of a second story window about 9 o'clock, and was taken to the Lowell hospital. Her injuries are only slight although the fall was some 15 feet. At about the same time the ambulance was summoned to Basset street where five-year-old Alice Camassee needed medical assistance. The little girl was scalded by the overturning of a tea-kettle and was taken to the Lowell hospital.

Muralite?

is the best material ever made for tinting and decorating plastered, sand-finished, wall-papered, painted and combed surfaces. It is similar to kalsomine in character but much more satisfactory. Furnished in its original pure white color and in many soft, beautiful tints. Sold in powdered form requiring to be simply mixed with water.

MURALITE is very easy to mix and apply, dries rapidly with a pleasant odor and presents a soft, clear, durable and most artistic water color effect. It is far superior to paint, wall paper, kalsomine or any of the wall finishes heretofore made and forms a sanitary, fire-proof and beautiful coating for walls and ceilings; an ideal background for pictures, bric-a-brac and furniture.

MURALITE is not an experiment, but a thoroughly demonstrated success. It is made by the most experienced kalsomine experts in the world and is being used by thousands of the leading master painters throughout the country. It is the standard material of its kind and has won its popularity wholly because of its exceptional merit.

MURALITE is recommended for the following reasons:
Saves time, trouble, material and expense.
Can be used by almost anyone and upon almost any surface with success.
Covers splendidly and generally with one coat.
Can be second-coated easily.
Will not rub off, chip nor peel.
Can be easily washed off with water and a sponge whenever necessary.

FULL FLEDGED COMMISSIONERS

Dr. R. Mignault and John H. Mills, who at the last meeting of the municipal council were elected to the park board, called at the city clerk's office this morning and took the oath, qualifying for said positions.

Dr. Mignault later paid a visit to the superintendent of the park department and while there met one of his colleagues, Henry F. Carr, the meeting being a most pleasant one.

At Fort Hill Park
Supt. Kernan of the park department announced this morning that Fort Hill park is being put in shape. A number of employees of the department are on the job planting flowers, moving the grass, and doing various jobs around the grounds, and thus far a very noticeable change can be seen. "It is to be regretted, however," said Mr. Kernan, "that the children have already caused damage to the pretty plants which adorn this beautiful park. Some of them walked over the lawn and even went as far as plucking some of the flowers." It is understood that there is no police officer stationed around the grounds at the present time.

Horse Is Indisposed
The one and only horse in the park department is now on the sick list and reported unfit for duty, and the absence of poor "Dot" is greatly felt all over the department. The question is how will the men get along without the services of the horse which has been in the department for well, the superintendent does not know how long.

The department is soon to invest $50 for new lawn mowers, as those now being used will soon be out of commission.
Ball Players, Beware!
The amateur baseball players are requested to take notice that a permit from the superintendent of parks of the city is needed for the privilege of the diamonds on either the North or South commons. First come, first served, is the rule, and in this manner there will be no more trouble on the ball grounds especially on Saturday afternoons, when two or more teams line up for this favorite sport. Last Saturday there was some friction on the South commons diamond between several base ball teams, each claiming to have been there first. Park Commissioner Carr, who happened to be on the premises at the time, settled the matter, when one of the teams produced a permit from the office of the park department, stating that a permit was needed to obtain the grounds.

WOMAN BEATEN TO DEATH

ABINGTON, May 7.—Testimony tending to show that Mrs. Whitford Sutherland was beaten to death with a chair wielded by her husband, James R. Sutherland, at their home in Whitman, was given by Chief of Police E. A. Brumfield of Whitman at a hearing today.

Mrs. Sutherland died April 28 as the result of terrible bruises which her husband said were caused by falling down stairs.

Charged With Assault
MILFORD, May 7.—Charged with an assault on a loyal worker of the Draper company mills at Hopkade, Camille Dallayampi of 38 Park street, Milford, and Joe Bello of 18 Beach street, were arrested early today by a squad of police and special officers, who made their way with drawn clubs through a crowd of more than 100 strikers and sympathizers.

The trouble arose when Jules Harrant, a loyal worker, turned out of South Bow street into Main street. Instantly he was surrounded by the strikers.

According to the story told by Bello, Harrant pulled a gun. Bello alleges that he jumped on Harrant when he saw the gun and wrestled it from his grasp. The police, however, were unable to find any trace of a revolver.

DENTAL CLINIC

A GOOD THING

The dental clinic which was opened a week or ten days ago at the Worthen street school, is doing a big business. There are many children who have taken the opportunity given them by the school department to have their teeth examined, and the result is very gratifying.

Beginning this week and until further notice, the clinic will be open three days a week, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays. Members of the Dental association are in attendance and they look after the needs of their patients. Supt. Molloy stated this morning that he believed the clinic would be a success in every sense of the word.

Kindergarten Classes
The kindergarten class at the Howard street school will be open Monday, and will be known as the Lincoln school kindergarten. A similar class will be started on the same day at the Lakeview avenue school. The kindergarten at the latter school necessitates the arrangement of three primary rooms instead of four, for in the opinion of many persons a four-room primary building should be a four grade building, for it is conceded by many teachers that the use of a four-room building for three grades leads inevitably for some children at least, to spending four years in covering a three-year course.

WHAT DOES IT PROFIT A MAN

To buy a refrigerator for $10, if it is going to cost him $5.00 more for ice every season than it would have cost him to run an Eddy Refrigerator that sells for $14.25? Think it over and don't forget to figure next season's extra cost, and next, and next. See the thickness of the EDDY walls. See the double cover over the ice chambers. # ASSASSIN OF KING GEO. A SUICIDE

Aleko Schinas Who Killed Greek Ruler Jumped From Window of Police Station

ATHENS, Greece, May 6.—Aleko Schinas, who assassinated King George of Greece on March 13 at Salonika, committed suicide this morning by flinging himself out of a window of the police station in that city.

Schinas, who was a native of the town of Volo, Thessaly, killed the king by firing point blank into his back while he was walking along the streets of Salonika accompanied by an aide de camp. He gave as an explanation of the crime that in 1911 he had applied for assistance at the king's palace and had been driven away by an aide de camp.

A few days ago the doctors examined Schinas and announced that he was suffering from tuberculosis.

BORROW $9000 FOR PAVING

Money Voted Though Appropriation Was Made Last Year

No Street Dept. Report for 1911—Council to Meet Mornings

The municipal council yesterday afternoon voted to borrow $9000 to complete paving for which money was appropriated last year, and this in the face of the fact that the city engineer was present and stated that in his estimation sufficient money was appropriated last year to complete the work.

Mayor O'Donnell called to order at 2:30 o'clock. Aldermen Barrett and Bowers were absent, and in the absence of City Clerk Flynn, who was engaged at the superior court in Gorham street, Wm. P. McCarthy, assistant city clerk, acted as clerk of the meeting.

Addition to Greenbush School

The first business before the meeting was an order to borrow $25,000 for a six-room addition to the Greenbush school. Alderman Cummings spoke in favor of the order and the mayor expressed himself as in favor of the proposition. The order was adopted.

The petition of G. L. Hubbard for license to keep, store, use and sell gasoline was granted.

An order to borrow $9000 and appropriate the same for the completion of a portion of the unfinished granite block paving authorized by the municipal council of 1912 was read. There was no objection and the order was adopted.

An order to borrow $9000 and appropriate the same for the completion of a portion of the unfinished granite block paving authorized by the municipal council of 1912 was read. There was no objection and the order was adopted.

Paving Blocks Unpaid For

Alderman Donnelly called the council's attention to the fact that there are 40,000 paving blocks in the Warren street yard, blocks ordered for the Church street job last fall. The blocks have been there all winter and have not been paid for.

"Then we are going to borrow money to pay for the Church street and Andover street jobs?" asked Mr. Barrett.

"That is precisely what we are doing," said Mr. Donnelly.

"You appreciate, Mr. Barrett, that it is not the fault of the entire council?" said the mayor.

"I know whose fault it is," said Mr. Barrett.

"It is Alderman Brown's fault and no other commissioner has attempted anything of the kind," said the mayor.

To Meet Mornings

Mayor O'Donnell suggested that hereafter the council might hold its meetings in the forenoon. This arrangement would leave the commissioners free to do other business connected with their departments in the afternoon.

An order for a sewer in Parker street from Pine street southerly about 350 feet was adopted. The sewer will cost about $1200.

An order for a sewer in West Sixth street southerly with the West premises, on petition of the board of health, was read.

The board of health was asked by the people of the neighborhood to relieve them of the nuisance due to stagnant water, the year around, at West Sixth street near West street. There will be no charge on abutment on this sewer, until they are ready to use it. The sewer will cost about $1500. The order was adopted.

was put over until the next meeting for further consideration.

Alderman Barrett attacked the statement of Engineer Bowers that the new wells were not properly located, and said they were located by men working under Mr. Bowers' direction.

He asked permission to expend about $1000 on experimental stations, most of which would be for labor.

Mayor O'Donnell said Mr. Barrett could furnish the labor and buy material costing not over $500. Above that sum he would require a vote of the municipal board.

HELP THE HORSE AND RID HIM OF HIS INJURIOUS BLINDERS

Agent Richardson of Humane Society Working Hard to Have Horses' Eyes Uncovered

Agent Richardson of the Lowell Humane society is very busy these days in advocating the discontinuance of the blinders used on horse bridles, and accordingly he urges owners of horses to do away with the leather pieces which on the long run in many cases will make a horse blind.

This morning he stopped a young man in Merrimack street and advised him to give up the blinders which were being used on his horse's bridle. The said blinders covered almost entirely the horse's eyes, and so much that the animal could hardly walk without being driven. The young man said he would tell his employer about it, and he said he believed another bridle would be put on.

Mr. Richardson said the blinders are a bad and serve no purpose. He said in olden days people had them on their horses simply to have their coat of arms on the horse's head. He said his efforts in Lowell to rid the horses of the blinders were very satisfactory thus far, and he quoted several business men who own horses, who have dropped the blinders. The horses of the fire department as well as those owned by the city are not equipped with troublesome blinders, and probably less for the animals without the blinders can see where they are going.

Mr. Richardson makes an appeal to all owners of horses to do away with the blinders and use just the common strap.

DR. F. L. PATTON RESIGNS

Seminary Head Faces Partial Blindness

PRINCETON, N. J., May 7.—Facing partial blindness, the Rev. Francis L. Patton, who has just resigned as president of Princeton Theological seminary, is receiving the sympathy of a wide acquaintanceship. The resignation will take effect August 1, but Dr. Patton has already been relieved of his duties. Dr. Patton is seventy years old and has been before the public for forty-eight years since the time of his ordination in 1855. He has spent thirty-two of these years at Princeton, five as a professor in the seminary, two as a professor of ethics in the university, fourteen as president of the university, and finally eleven years as president of the seminary, a position which he assumed immediately on resigning the headship of the university, when he was succeeded by Woodrow Wilson, now president of the United States. Professor Patton was born on the island of Bermuda, Jan. 22, 1841, and studied theology at Knox college, Toronto, and at Princeton, having been graduated from the latter institution in 1865.

NEW YORK, May 7.—This picture, man of the English committee, which came to the United States to arrange with the American committee for the celebration in 1915 of 100 years' peace between England and America, is shown in the city hall, New York, and shows the visiting delegates were feted with dinners and receptions in New York and

MINISTER GETS DIVORCE PULLED IN FALSE ALARM

Named Maine Man as Fireman Wanted "Pals" Correspondent to Attend Wedding

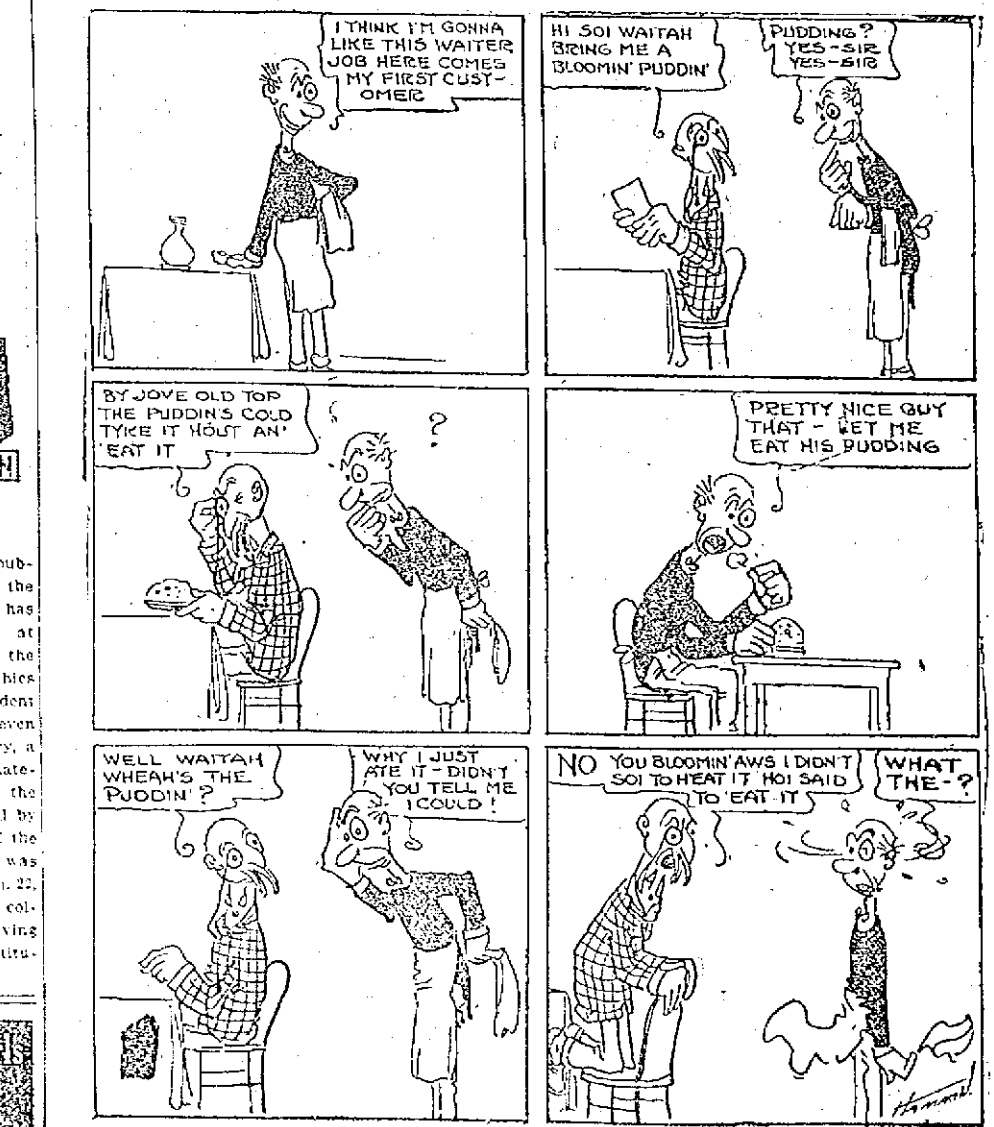

HARTFORD, Conn., May 7.—Besides an absolute divorce Judge Marcus H. Holcomb of the superior court yesterday afternoon awarded to the Rev. Cranston Brenton, professor of English literature at Trinity college and prominent in the Episcopal church, the custody of his 7-year-old boy, Jonathan Brenton, who is now with his grandmother, Mrs. Benjamin Brenton, at Jamaica, L. I.

Though Mrs. Brenton brought the original action, she refused to press her suit when the trial was begun in chambers and the decree was granted on Professor Brenton's cross complaint, in which he named Frederick Holman of Rockland, Me., as correspondent.

It has been persistently stated that Mrs. Brenton was most anxious that she be freed from her husband so that she might marry Holman, to whom she dedicated her poem, "The Norseman," an acoustic in the poetical instruction reading, "To thee, Ernest, O my love."

The Brentons were married June 15, 1911, and lived on Vernon street in this city, near Trinity college.

SCOTT DIED FROM EXHAUSTION

Men Did Not Die From Starvation, According to Member of Relief Party

WASHINGTON, May 6.—Exhaustion and not starvation was the cause of the death of Captain Scott and the men who died with him on their way back from the South pole, according to Lieut. Gran, a member of the relief party which found the bodies. Lieut. Gran stopped off in this city for a few hours on his way to London.

"The end of the party apparently was peaceful," declared Gran. "Capt. Scott lay on his back as if asleep but outside of his sleeping bag. Dr. Wilson and Lieut. Bowers were in the sleeping bags and it was apparent that they had been carefully wrapped up by Capt. Scott, who evidently was the last to die."

"Lieut. Bowers lay on his side exactly as if he were asleep. Dr. Wilson was sitting in a half reclining position, his back against the side of the tent facing us as we entered it. On his features were the traces of a faint smile and he looked exactly as if he were about to awaken from a sound sleep."

"While they did not die of starvation, still all their food had given out and, worst of all, their fuel."

"When we had secured all the equipment and the records of Capt. Scott we laid the bodies side by side and said a burial service for them. Then he removed the poles from the tent and covered the bodies over with the canvas. On top of this we built a cairn of snow and ice 15 feet high. We took two skulls bound them together in the form of a cross and erected it on top of the cairn, a last memorial to the dead, and left them where they fell."

Gran has possession of Capt. Scott's diary and records. He is on the way to New York, whence he will go to London to attend the meeting of the Royal Geographical society on May 23.

The lecturer will tell of many exciting and romantic experiences during his service as an officer in the Philippine war and on a visit to the southern islands of the archipelago. A year ago Mr. O'Flaherty revisited the Philippines as a tourist, and secured many unique views of native life and scenery in the Sulug group, land of the fierce Mohammedan Moros.

Mr. O'Flaherty's travel tour will begin at the harbor of Manila, and he will show some interesting pictures of the new fortifications and the expensive improvements in the great bay of Luzon, the first landing place of our troops in the islands.

From new and old Manila the lecturer will chaperon his audience on a flying trip through the principal islands of the archipelago, concluding with a hike-tour of the Sulug, the most interesting group of tropical islands in the Orient.

Much interest in this lecture has been aroused in the public schools of the city, as Mr. O'Flaherty is widely known as "the children's soldier-lecturer."

The travel lecture will begin at 8:15 and close at 9:30 o'clock.

LOS ANGELES PRIMARIES

Selecting Candidates for Municipal Election

LOS ANGELES, May 7. Complete returns early today from yesterday's primary election indicated that John Shenh, municipal conference candidate, and H. H. Rose, independent, would be the candidates for the majority at the election on June 3. Job Harriman, socialist candidate, who made such a strong showing 18 months ago, was apparently defeated, although the latest returns showed him to be less than 1000 votes behind Rose, who in turn was more than 12,000 votes behind Shenh. The socialist party, however, will have a good representation on both the councilmanic and board of education tickets on the election ballot. Four or more socialist candidates are assured of nominations, including Mrs. Milla Tupper Maynard, a socialist lecturer.

$105,000 LOSS IN THREE FIRES

Three Alarms for Each While Others Are Burning—Entire Fire Fighting Force
In Action for Hours

BOSTON, May 7.—Three three-alarm fires in Boston yesterday kept practically the entire fire-fighting force of the city in action for hours and caused a property damage totalling $105,000.

From noon, when the big six-story warehouse of Prescott & Co., 324 Congress street, burst into flames, until the all out sounded for the third fire, started by an incendiary in the Boston & Maine freight yards on Rutherford avenue, Charlestown, late last night, the clanging apparatus rushed through the streets in answer to the alarms sent in in record procession.

Degrimed firemen went from fire to fire and at midnight they ended their worst day fighting for many years. Charlestown was the scene of the two worst fires of the day. Both came in the early evening. Within three minutes after the out signal sounded for the control of the blaze in the Palmer & Parker lumber yard on Medford street, the first of the last series of three alarms had rung in for the Boston & Maine freight shed fire, where six box cars and a freight shed were destroyed.

Crowded tenement houses adjoining both Charlestown fires were threatened by the flames. Practically all the Charlestown fire apparatus and as much as could be spared from the city proper was at the lumber yard fire, and the flames in the hay-stored freight shed had gained tremendous headway before the firemen got there.

Hunt For Firebug
The police of the City Square station are combing their district for the incendiary. They suspect he is the same firebug who three months ago started a three-alarm fire in freight shed 10 and then kindled a two-alarm fire in Bryant's undertaking establishment, half a mile away, within less than an hour.

The flames kindled by the firebug last night came very near sweeping across Charlestown to the Mystic. At one time the fire was leaping many feet into the air for more than 100 yards of the length of freight shed 36. Blazing sparks were carried by the brisk southwest breeze for a quarter of a mile over the roofs of tenement houses south of Sullivan square.

Dairy Plant Ignites
Fire Chief Mullen massed his men along the windward side of the long shed and they fought desperately to keep the flames from jumping across Rutherford avenue into the flimsy frame dwellings toward Main street.

The large dairy plant of H. P. Hood & Sons, adjoining on the south, caught several times, but was saved. A building at the receiving platform was kindled by sparks, but Bryan Sullivan, the shipping clerk, organized a brigade of Hood employees and they saved it with patent extinguishers.

Hampered By Smoke
Dense clouds of suffocating smoke eddied close to the ground and added to the firemen's difficulties. For more than an hour they poured tons of water into the building before they had the fire under control.

This is the first time in the memory of the oldest members of the department when three three-alarm fires came practically simultaneously. The excitement started just before noon, when fire was discovered in the basement of the six-story warehouse building at 324 Congress street, South Boston.

This building, occupied by Prescott & Co. as a storehouse for their kitchen wares, is in the wool district so dreaded by the fire department.

Prescott & Co. estimate their loss at $50,000, covered by insurance. The National Wool and Warehouse company, adjoining, suffered a slight smoke and water damage, as did Lodge Lumber Yard Abaze.

At 5:38, almost two hours before the Congress street fire was conquered, the lumber yard fire was discovered in Charlestown, and part of the apparatus had to rush over there.

Herbert T. Townsend, in charge of the dry-house in Palmer & Parker's big yard on Medford street, was just entering the building when he saw flashes of fire about the electric metro box. Before he could ring an alarm from box 451 at the foot of Tufts street, the Circassian walnuts and mahogany woods and veneers in the dry-house were burning fiercely.

The flames were through the roof of the dry-house and the sawmill and No. 2 storehouse, filled with thousands of dollars' worth of kiln-dried mahogany, had caught by that time.

Three big piles of air-dried mahogany in the yard were alive, and the wind was showering sparks into the James P. Stewart coal and wood wharf. The loss is estimated at $25,000.

Driven From House

Eugene Tyrrell, an employee of Palmer & Parker, and his family of six were driven from their home at 83 Medford street. The house was filled with smoke, and the rear, next the dry-house, was burning briskly several times.

Palmer & Parker's lumber yard is the largest of its kind in the country. They have a quarter of a million dollars' worth of imported and domestic fancy veneers and woods stored on the premises. In September of 1910 they had a somewhat similar fire, which caused $50,000 damage.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Opera House

It would be hard to select two more timely topics than "The Making of the Panama Canal" and "Actual Scenes of the Balkan War," now being shown by the Kinemacolor Co. at the Opera House. These pictures are in the same process of natural color motion photography which made the Kinemacolor representation of the Coronation of King George and the Durbar so noteworthy. Not only are the present subjects more interesting to Americans than the "Coronation" and "Durbar" could be, but it is said that the Kinemacolor process has itself been vastly improved and that, therefore, these pictures are more beautiful than their predecessors in popular favor. So likewise is the magic of this long sought process that every color of nature, whether it be the scarlet of some strange tropical blossom or the indigo of the summer seas, that wash the isthmus on either side, is reproduced in all exactitude and in every exquisite shading for the benefit of the spectator. And as well does the natural color reproduce the actual scenes of warfare for the spectator. The Durbar pictures are also a part of the program. Tomorrow and for the last four days of the engagement "The Coronation" will be seen.

Merrimack Square Theatre

Quincey Adams Sawyer is the joint play ever written. The comedy scenes are strong and manly, and the tender seriousness of the sentimental portions being only sweet content and satisfaction unmingled with regret or sadness. It is being presented at the Merrimack Square this week and is delighting large audiences every performance.

The Company G Glee club and Alice Bagley, Lowell's own favorite will be among the features on next Sunday's bill.

Keith's Theatre

There's but one way to enjoy a show, and that's in a place where the air is cool and where ventilation is perfect. The place in Lowell where one may see a good show and at the same time be comfortable is the B. F. Keith theatre. Yesterday, with the thermometer showing 55 degrees, the theatre atmosphere stood at 58 degrees. And not all the cool air in the place was turned on at that. "The Honey Girls" offer a lively entertainment. Their musical skill is in three scenes, and for fun-makers there are Ben Small and Harry Brown. The costume changes are nu## merous. Altogether it is a real snappy entertainment they offer. Ben Smith, tenor singer of note, and a former associate of Hugh Jennings, the Detroit manager, wins everybody with his singing of "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine." It is a splendid ballad and Mr. Smith renders it well. J. C. Nugent &amp; Co. in "The Rube" have an old character sketch, while Edgar J. Schooley &amp; Co. in "Jimmy the Tont" present a racing comedy. Mildred &amp; Huntington in "Aladdin" deliver over novelties. Paula Reeves is a comely singing comedienne. The Beau Brummel trio, consisting of Messrs. Covey, Reeves and Murphy, is most engaging, while Savoy, the eccentric juggler, opens the bill with a rush. Seats for all performances may be obtained in advance. The box office phone is numbered 38.

The Casino

It has been said that the variety of amusements in Lowell is limited. That is not true. Lowell has its share of theatres, vaudeville, houses, and "movies," and Lowell's social life is fairly as active as that of other similar cities. Contributing prominently to the latter is the Casino, on Thorndike street hill. Every night and on Saturday afternoon, the Casino becomes the objective for hundreds of people.

GREETING ELECTION

Annual Event Will be Held on May 30—Several Candidates For President

The members of the local Greeting community will hold their annual election of officers on May 30, and nominations have already been made for the offices of president and directors. Thomas J. Noyes, the present head of the community is again in the field for president, while it is understood that George C. Croules, a former president is also a candidate, while another former president, Harry Housis is running for a place on the board of directors.

CONGRESSMAN REED

Strikes Popular Chord in His First Recommendation for Postmaster in His District

The Laconia, N. H., Democrat, has the following complimentary to say of one of the first recommendations of Congressman Eugene E. Reed for a postmaster in his district. One of Congressman Eugene E. Reed's first postmaster recommendations was for the appointment of a woman, Miss Grace Edna Emmons, to be postmaster at East Rochester. Miss Emmons is the daughter of Postmaster Emmons, who is a republican, but in recommending her Mr. Reed called Postmaster General Burleson's attention to the fact that Mr. Emmons had recently been stricken with locomotor

which goes to indicate that the wicked

democrats are not always quite as wicked as they are advertised to be. Congressman Reed is particularly well known in Lowell and rode in the parade here on March 29th. He is regarded as one of the strong and influential leaders in New England, being also a member of the national democratic committee.

GANGS

One of the most prolific sources of crime and law breaking in cities is the formation of gangs or definite groups which form in different sections throughout the city, and gradually absorb the worst elements of the neighborhood. As an instance of the abuse that this tendency leads to we have the recent example of the arrest of six members of such a gang from the neighborhood of Moody and Third streets and the testimony of the police officer who arrested them to the effect that he had experienced trouble from them for a long time.

What is true of the arrested gang is also true of like groups in other parts of the city. At the beginning they may be innocent enough. Boys are drawn together in a social and friendly spirit. They joke and chat each other good-naturedly. Then they crave for the society of each other and the seeds of evil are planted. Gradually the bad influence of some individual or individuals is felt. Instead of harmless laugh and joke are heard obscene jests, swearing, and blasphemy. They fear at passersby and hurl epithets at women and girls. They respect neither the rights of person or property, and crave the continual excitement of being watched by the police. Such groups are usually led by some vicious bully and completely subservient to his will.

The summertime is particularly favorable to the formation of such groups, and the police activity could not be better directed than in their disbarring. Even in their faultless innocent stages, they should not be allowed to congregate constantly at the same place. By disbarring them at their inception, much crime might be prevented. So contagious is bad example that the loftiest character is sometimes affected by the contaminating influence of immoral and lawless groups of idlers.

In the great cities of America, the waves of crime which often shock the people of the entire country are often the result of organized bands or so-called gangs. Undoubtedly many such terrible combinations began as innocently in their infancy as some of the crowds which you may see nightly at street corners or in the commons and parks. It would be well if the police would keep this in mind when keeping a watch on gangs of idle and mischievous boys frequenting the same neighborhood nightly and that should be broken up. Such action would be appreciated by the general public and by the property owners as well as by many fathers and mothers who note but too well the demoralizing influence of the "gangs" on their children.

WAGE REDUCTIONS

It is with a sense of security and re-assurance that the country will receive the declaration of Secretary Redfield that if reduction in the wages of workmen follows the enactment of the democratic tariff bill, the investigating powers of the department of commerce will be called in to establish whether they are necessitated by the new legislation, or simply born of political intrigue.

Since the democratic determination to amend the tariff was announced, some of those who until now have been enabled by the tariff to make abnormal gains, have sent out warning prophecies of coming disaster, and injury to labor. This was to be expected. But when they announce wage reductions the reflection must intrude itself into the minds of many that to get back to the old order of things some of these prophecies would not hesitate to mislead their influence on the industrial situation so as to harass, if not defeat, the government. Although all right minded people irrespective of party, including such an eminent man as Ex-President Taft, call for co-operation, there are undoubtedly some who are planning to make possible the old unjust imputation that a democratic administration and industrial prosperity cannot exist together in America.

In this connection there is no misunderstanding or second interpretation of the words of Secretary Redfield as to the intentions of the government. "We don't feel disposed to accept as par the statement of the interests themselves as to the effects of the tariff bill, but will make a thorough investigation through the bureau of domestic and foreign commerce."

This will mark a new departure in government procedure but like most of the other innovations of the present administration it will meet with an instantaneous response from all sincere people—manufacturers as well as ordinary citizens.

Why not make up your mind that you want dandelions on your lawn, and so be contented, instead of fretting because you can't get rid of them.

A woman who weighs 225 pounds ought to think a long while before ordering a hobble skirt.

The man who tells you of your faults may do you a real service, but he has no good reason to expect that you will like him.

It wouldn't be so discouraging to try and fail if there weren't said to be some one around to say: "I told you so."

Some men are so eager for publicity that they are pleased to see their names in print, even in a jury list.

Do a mighty chief die, we publish it, and in borders of sombre. Staff has each one been college, and write like Kipling and the Dickens. We circulate every town and extortionate not for advertisement. Buy it. Buy it. Buy it."—Belfast News.

Some people have remarked that Supt. Welch was greatly disappointed Saturday afternoon. He was prepared for any emergency but after all his trouble nothing happened. There was nothing to do; the waiting men and patrols were needless and some was at the close of the day reminded the superintendent of that famous king who marched up the hill with twelve thousand men and then marched down again.

Mr. Albert Ramsay, of 413 Chelmsford street, sent to the Sun office, the other day, a copy of the first newspaper ever published in the western hemisphere. It is headed "The Boston News-Letter" and is dated "Monday, April 17 to Monday, April 24, 1684." Its editor, printer, reporter and publisher was one John Campbell, the postmaster of the town of Boston. Most of the news appearing on the single page of the paper had to do with the parliamentary happenings in London of the preceding December's session. It contained some very hot articles, it contained the names of the Jacobites and their ill-starred leader, the Pretender, and is permeated with the religious bitterness which existed between the two great English parties of that day. There is but little local news in the paper. A few extracts may be of interest.

"Mr. Nathaniel Oliver, a principal Merchant of this place, died April 13 & was decently interred April 18, Aetatis 53."

"Boston, April 18—Arrived Capt. Sill from Jamaica, about 4 Weeks Passage; says they continue there very sickly."

A Fine Witness
Portland Express: President Charles S. Mellen makes a fine witness. It is something unusual for the president of a railroad to criticize its management, but the very fact of such criticism indicates that Mr. Mellen wishes to treat the subject fairly. From his testimony it is apparent that he has faith in his road. The road of course is carrying some heavy loads at present, but these the president thinks can be gotten rid of without material difficulty.

Correct Weight
Lynn News: In these days of high living cost the purchaser of commodities is entitled to every ounce he pays for and he should not be obliged to pay food prices for paper or wood containers. When he is forced to do this he is paying rather a long price for materials that cost the purveyor but little and do not add to the well being of the buyer. If a merchant cannot afford to wrap his goods up without exacting pay for the container at food prices he ought to get into some other business.

Good Advice
Worcester Post: The New Bedford cotton manufacturers who are indulging themselves with all sorts of terrors, and signed over the Underwood bill, got some wholesome advice in a speech of Walter H. Creamer of Lynn at the dinner of the democratic club there the other evening. He had, he said, a shoe manufacturer been in the successful fight to place shoes on the free list. If the shoe men can compete with the world, there is no reason why the cotton men cannot do the same, he declared.

President's Health
Pittsburgh Gazette: It is less than two months since Woodrow Wilson became president, but already he has had several significant hearings that he must look after his health by refraining from too persistent application to duties. They say in Washington that he has found his new office to impose much heavier obligations than he had hitherto occupied by him, if not greater than he had supposed was the case. Mr. Wilson is not especially robust. Although older than either of them, he has not the physique of Colonel Roosevelt and Professor Taft, and in the nature of things it is doubtful whether he stands the wear and tear to which they subjected themselves without apparent impairment of their vigor.

Compliments
Springfield Union: It was Theodore Roosevelt who said of President Taft: "He means well, but he means well feebly." It was Gov. Hiram Johnson who referred to President Taft as "the most humiliating figure in American history." Now the Rev. Mills declares that President Wilson is "weak" and that his eyes are "in the back of his head." Progressive educators have a particular penchant for belittling and disparaging our national executives. Thus far Mr. Wilson is getting off more easily than Taft in that respect. But he cannot expect to command much respect from the monopolists of sanctity and militant strenuousness.

CONVICT FOUR N.Y. INSPECTORS

Jurors Reached Verdict
In Thirty-Eight Minutes

Will Be Sentenced Friday—Trial On Seven Days

NEW YORK, May 7.—James F. Thompson, James E. Hussey, John J. Murtha and Dennis Sweeney, the four demoted inspectors charged with conspiracy to obstruct justice, were convicted by a jury in the supreme court shortly after 8 o'clock last night. Only 33 minutes was taken by the jurors in which to reach their verdict that the defendants were guilty of a misdemeanor in plotting to keep a prospective witness against the "system" from making great disclosures before the grand jury.

Disorder in Court
The accused officials stood outwardly unmoved as they heard the verdict. The crowd in the courtroom, however, created a disturbance, shuffling chairs and feet until attendants checked the disorder. The prisoners gave their pedigrees and after being remanded for sentence Friday they were returned to their cells. Their counsel announced that a certificate of reasonable doubt will be sought. If it is granted the prisoners will be admitted to bail pending efforts to secure a new trial. The penalty for obstruction of justice is one year in jail or a fine of $500, or both. It was reported that the jury required only one ballot to reach its decision.

Seven-Day Trial
The men were on trial seven court days. District Attorney Whitman and his assistants brought evidence to show that the four plotted to buy the silence of George A. Sipp, a resort-keeper, through bribing him, to flee the state last December. At that time the prosecutor was attacking the police "system" through graft disclosures made by Sipp and other witnesses before the aldermanic committee that was investigating the police department. For a period of years Sipp made monthly payments to the police for protection for his resort, he had told the committee. Before Mr. Whitman had a chance to get Sipp to repeat this testimony before the grand jury the hotel man took flight.

Upon being returned to the court's jurisdiction it developed that he had been bribed with $2500 to leave. Sipp so stated, and the prosecutor's inquiry into his story resulted in the joint indictment of the defendants, then inspectors.

Carroll of Graft
NEW YORK, May 7.—The conviction last night of the demoted police inspectors, Dennis Sweeney, James E. Hussey, James Thompson, and John J. Murtha on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice was declared by District Attorney Charles Whitman today to be likely to lead to still more important work in clearing the police situation. No explanation, however, of what further action is contemplated is forthcoming. The results thus far of the ten months' war to end the police system's "carnival of graft" have included the conviction or pleas of guilty by ten policemen and the conviction of several associates in crime. The list begins with Lieut. Charles Becker, who was convicted last October of the instigation of the murder in July of Herman Rosenthal because the latter threatened to expose police graft. In November four gunmen were convicted of the same crime and sent to Sing Sing where with Becker they are awaiting the execution of death sentences.

The Becker-Rosenthal case led to a general investigation of the sale of police protection for vice and crime. Revelations were made which forced Policeman Eugene Fox and Captain Thomas Walsh to pleas of guilty of bribery, a confession of grafting by Policeman Warren, the conviction of John J. Hartigan, a patrolman on charges of perjury, the conviction of Thomas F. Robinson on charges of extortion and the conviction yesterday of the four demoted police inspectors on charges of conspiracy in trying to buy the silence of a witness against them. The four former inspectors still stand accused of bribery under another indictment, there being 14 counts against Sweeney.

CARBONOL In The Sick Room

AS an antiseptic and disinfectant, Carbonol is the best friend of doctors and nurses. They use it for washing all sick room utensils in order to kill germs and prevent contagion.

For skin diseases they use it in solution to reduce inflammation and get rid of the poison. After the sick room is vacated, floors and walls and woodwork and all the furniture are washed in Carbonol before a healthy person is allowed to inhabit it. By these methods, Carbonol maintains hygienic conditions in the very face of disease.

Don't wait for disease, however, to use Carbonol. Use it as a preventive to keep disease out of the house. Maintain not only soap-and-water cleanliness, but also antiseptic cleanliness.

Carbonol is excellent for removing stains of grease and oil, for cleaning cloudy windows, for ridding the dog of fleas, for removing rust and verdigris, for suppressing odors and getting rid of musty smells.

In fact, Carbonol will clean almost anything that is hard to clean. It is only a matter of making the solution strong enough to do the work. Carbonol is sold undiluted. It is very powerful and a spoonful of a bucket of water is sufficient for ordinary disinfecting.

Henry Sullivan will carry the best wishes of a host of friends with him on his attempted conquest of the English channel. If Sullivan's name could be posted in the hall of fame with the names of Captain Webb and William T. Burgess, the Lowell boy, would indeed have accomplished a feat which the entire city could boast of.

Joe (Jiggs) Donahue, son of Daniel J. Donahue, Esq., who has played second base for the Dartmouth baseball team for three years, was badly injured during a workout on the campus yesterday. Joe, in reaching for a hard hit grounder, slipped and fell, striking the ground on his left shoulder. He suffered a severe dislocation of the shoulder and may not play again this season. Donahue was one of the heaviest hitters on the team and his loss will be deeply felt.

The Lowell team is playing real baseball at present and looks better with each succeeding game. Her pitchers seem to be working smoothly and if the box problem has really been solved Lawrence and the other pennant contenders had better win all the games they can fight now. It looks from where we sit as though the down river team was over-riding a bit.

The high school boys have been invited to compete in the relay games which are run each year on the 17th of June at Danvers under the auspices of the St. John's preparatory school. The opponents that have been chosen for the local team are the English high runners of Boston, who won the world's title at the Philadelphia games a few weeks ago. Lowell high has some reputation on the track.

The final act in the disrobing of the greatest athlete in the world has now taken place with the awarding of Thorpe's Olympic prizes to the men who finished second to him in the various events. Thorpe's action in giving up his hard earned prizes saw no reflection in the attitude of the men to whom they were turned over. These same athletes must feel proud of themselves when they show the trophies to a better man won but who gave them up without a murmur when he was disqualified on a technicality that many of the so-called amateurs of today are guilty of in a much greater degree. There was no legal action by which Thorpe's prizes could have been taken from him.

BARRON IN FINE FORM

And Lowell Won From New Bedford

Barron held New Bedford down to five hits yesterday and won his game by the score of 4 to 1. A passed ball by Monahan was the only fielding error that Lowell had chalked up against her. Lowell got six hits, but these, combined with good base running, proved sufficient to pull out a win.

Monahan crossed the Whalers' infield in the eighth and beat out his bat along the third base line. Kihullen allowed him to steal second and he creased the plate with Lowell's second run when Clemens pounded out a double to right center. Wooden's error in the ninth allowed the local team to score two more runs and put the game on ice.

Clemens had a great day in the middle garden, making four difficult puts and getting two hits. Kihullen was the same reliable receiver at the initial sack that he has always been since donning a Lowell uniform. The Lowell infield played an air-tight fielding game throughout the nine innings. ## MANAGER OF ATHLETICS AND THREE OF HIS STARS WHO ARE HEADED PENNANTWARD

PHILADELPHIA, May 7.—"Keep your eye on the Athletics from now on," says Manager Connie Mack. The lanky leader of the Philadelphia Americans declares there is nothing that can stop his team from capturing the pennant unless his pitching staff goes to pieces. Right now the Athletics look to be about the strongest team in San Johnson's circuit. Mack's only problem this year is the twirling staff. In 1912 lack of twirling talent cost the Athletics the flag. This season Mack seems to be a little better off. "Big Chief" Bender is in grand condition and ready for a hard campaign on the mound. Jack Coombs has almost recovered from his recent illness and will be ready to take his regular turn in the box about June. The veteran Eddie Plank is also in fine shape. Mack has two promising youngsters in Pennock and Brown, who may help keep the team to the front. The $100,000 infield—McInnis, Collins, Barry and Baker—is going better than ever, while the outer gardeners are showing up well, especially Eddie Murphy in right field. The club is hitting the ball hard. In the first fourteen games Collins has a batting average of .490. The catching department is well looked after by Thomas and Lapp. If the twirling staff continues to perform well the Athletics should capture the pennant.

AL BRIDWELL TELLS WHY MCGRAW OF THE GIANTS IS SUCCESSFUL

McGRAW ON THE COACHING LINE

CHICAGO, May 6.—The secret of John J. McGraw's success as manager of the New York Giants was told recently by Al Bridwell, once shortstop of the New York team and now with the Cubs. He said: "McGraw's scheme of breaking up the hit and run play is one of the principal features of his success. He does not allow his shortstop or second baseman to dash over to the bag until after the batter hits. In this way, if the batter does connect, the infielders are still in position to get the ball. That is the way he often breaks up the play. When I joined the Giants McGraw tried the hit and run a little. Once when a Chicago player singled through short, later scored on a sacrifice fly and won the game McGraw laid out his scheme to break up the play. He told me not to move from my position till the ball was hit. That was the beginning of his defense. McGraw also is a wonder at picking the batters' weak points. He studies them thoroughly and instructs the players when to hit and the fielders how to play for every man. That in a way explains his success."

Chance Will Wait on Derrick
Taking a tip from Connie Mack, Frank Chance will not hurry Claude Derrick, the New York American's clever infielder. Derrick needs plenty of time to get into his stride, but as soon as he gets his arm in working order he will prove equal to the task. Chance made a valuable suggestion to Ray Fisher, who has been using a spitball the wrong way. He has started his delivery with a side arm motion, with the result that the "break" on the ball has been entirely too low. Chance has impressed upon Fisher the necessity of making a higher delivery, so that the ball when it breaks will pass between the knee and the waist line.

PERDUE WON FOR BRAVES O'ROURKE AND SMITH

Wagner Back in Game To Appear Here on Friday Evening

The Boston Braves celebrated their homecoming by taking the Pittsburgh Pirates into camp by the score of 3 to 2 in a ten inning game. Perdue was in the pinches for Boston and fanned the mighty Wagner in the fourth when Honus came up to bat with two men on the bases. Pittsburgh could only collect seven hits, the Boston twister tightening up in the pinches. Captain Sweeney scored the winning run for Boston in the 10th. He singled, thus sacrificed him along to second and when Carey collided with the left fielder, he crossed the plate for the final score of the game. Maranville contributed the fielding features of the game as well as hitting safely three times. The score:

Intercollegiate Athletic Meet
CHICAGO, May 7.—An intercollegiate athletic meet will be held on the lake front on July 1 and 2 under the auspices of the International Championships association, according to action taken at a meeting of representatives of 15 important universities. Chairman C. E. Bartley of the college section of the association asserted it was the intention to have every university and large college in the United States and Canada represented at the meet.

Terry O'Rourke of Lawrence and Jack Smith of Manchester, are scheduled to finish the main bout at the opening meeting of the Acme A. C., which will be held in the club rooms in Higgins hall, on Friday evening. O'Rourke and Smith furnished the main bout at the final meeting of the Lowell A. C. and gave a good exhibition of the manly art. Both are anxious to again meet and each avers that he will come out on the long end. Young Josephs of Lowell and Kid Sullivan of Lawrence are carded to appear in the semi-final bout of eight rounds. Those boys are lively performers and their offering should be interesting. Kid Hamilton and Young Brennan, both Lowell boys, who are well known in the circles of the preliminaries, and Young Halghey and Young Dufrey, of Lowell A. C. fame, are on the program for the other six round number. The rooms are located at the corner of Market and Hanover streets. The meeting will be called to order by Jimmy Mahan at 8:15.

Bean Ball Hypnotizes Chance
Manager Tinker of the Cincinnati Reds is much worried about Frank Chance, manager of the New York Highlanders, and fears that he will be killed during the coming season, if he carries out his announced intention of playing regularly. "Chance" said Tinker recently, "has fallen a victim to the same strange ailment that retired Hughie Jennings had from active participation in baseball. He is, seemingly, hypnotized or fascinated by a fast pitched ball whizzing along at the level of his head. Instead of switching his head aside or stepping back, Chance deliberately steps forward, thrusts his head at the ball and actually seems to follow the progress of the ball with his skull. "It is not a brain disease, Jennings is surely as brainy as any one since he left the game, and Chance would be all right if he'd keep off the field, but Jennings in this day isn't anxious to face things. Knowing what would probably happen, and Chance would give up the game just as Hughie did."

Baseball Faster Now

The perennial discussion as to whether or not baseball is faster now than it was two decades ago shows no sign of abating, and most of the stars of other days persist in their arguments that the champion teams of the eighties and early nineties were fully equal to those of the present day. But if the number of players injured on the diamond is any criterion, and it is, the pastime is much speedier now than it ever has been in the past. More chances are taken now than in the past because under modern conditions no chance can be overlooked. Even the old timers agree that pitchers nowadays use greater speed and sharper curves. The only department upon which there is room for debate is base running, and even in this, while it may be admitted that the older players were quite as fast on their feet, they did not take the chances in sliding that are taken in almost every game played at the present time. The game has grown faster, old timers to the contrary notwithstanding.

Indians in Baseball

Now that James Thorpe, the Indian athlete, has become a professional baseball player, it is interesting to recall that, though as a sportsman, Indians have produced many famous athletes, very few aborigines have ever attained fame on the baseball diamond. The names of those who have made their mark in major league company are familiar to every boy in the land: Soekalexis, Meyers, Wheat and Bender. Others have played in minor leagues, and have made good records, only to fall when they were tried in the speedier circuits. Among these are Balant, with Cincinnati last season; Jude and Louis Laro of the St. Paul American association team. Laro, while a first class minor league pitcher, has never proved able to stay with a major league club, though it would be a difficult matter to explain why. Balant received another trial this spring in the major circuit with the St. Louis American league club, and some hope is entertained of him. Bender, Balant and Thorpe are all Carlisle products.

DEFEAT WOMAN SUFFRAGE BILL

House of Commons Defeats Measure 266 to 219

Irish Nationalists Against It—Asquith Threatens to Resign

LONDON, May 7.—The fate of the woman's suffrage bill was sealed last night by the vote of more than 50 Irish nationalists, who voted against it. The bill, whereby it was sought to enfranchise 6,000,000 women, was rejected by a majority of 47; the vote stood 266 to 219.

As the members of the house gathered for the afternoon session, news came of the latest outrage laid to the militants. This was the burning of St. Catherine's church, one of the finest in the suburb of Hatham. The fire started mysteriously at noon and in an hour the edifice was in ruins.

Balloting on the measure came yesterday only after the most stirring and vigorous of speeches in opposition and support of the measure, during which Premier Asquith, arguing for the defeat of the bill, declared he would resign if his colleagues in the cabinet ever suggested that they did not feel justified in following a government, the head of which was opposed to them.

Whether there is any chance that the present parliament will pass a bill of more limited character may be doubted. Possibly the nationalists fear that if they allow a woman's franchise bill to pass the second reading it would lead to a parliamentary struggle which would not only end in a dissolution of parliament before the home rule bill gets on the statute books.

Further, the debate yesterday proved that the militant policy of the suffragists has done the cause great harm as far as parliament is concerned. The cancellation bill of last session was rejected by only a small majority compared with the Dickinson bill, which was under discussion yesterday, and previous bills giving some measure of enfranchisement to women, have passed the second reading, although they never succeeded in reaching the committee in subsequent stages.

Recent police court disclosures of acts of incendiarism planned by the militants for surpassing in magnitude anything heretofore attempted in the burning of St. Catherine's church at Hatham yesterday undoubtedly influenced many members to vote against the bill.

Bill's Defeat Popular
The figures of the division, showing the defeat of the bill, were greeted with a great cheer from all sides of the house. The debate, which on Monday proceeded with extraordinary apathy in a thin house, was yesterday characterized by intensity and brilliant speeches. The house was crowded and pervaded with an atmosphere of electrical excitement. The strangers galleries were packed, and many anxious faces peered from behind the grill-guarded gallery devoted to women.

BULL MOOSE HELD RALLY

Bird is Against Any Compromise

SPRINGFIELD, May 7.—Charles Sumner Bird, candidate of the progressive party for governor this fall, served emphatic notice on the republican party of this state in a speech here last night that under no circumstances whatever would he run as the candidate of the two parties on a compromise platform.

His declaration was construed as an answer to ex-Lieutenant Governor Luce and other republican leaders, who have been urging that the party support Mr. Bird for governor in the coming contest.

More than 1200 men and women gathered in the auditorium of the city hall, swayed their handbanners and cheered when the candidate for governor said that he refused to consider the republican party as a serious proposition, and predicted that the conflict in the democratic party would eventually result in the triumph of the standard conservative element of that party.

Mr. Bird made it plain that he would not run as the candidate of both the bull moose and the republican parties when he said:

"I cannot imagine any progressive being willing to run as the candidate of two parties on a compromise, composite platform and on a ballot composed of men representing different parties and different political principles."

One of the interesting facts developed at the meeting was that Mr. Bird is not an owner of the Boston Journal, which is the bull moose organ in the state. The bull moose candidate for governor paid a high tribute to the courage of Editor Matthew Hale in purchasing the Journal, but denied that he had any money invested in it.

The conference started shortly after noon with a meeting in the Hotel Worthy, at which papers were read on behalf of subjects. Captain Jack Crawford was a speaker at this meeting.

FOR PARK AND PLAYGROUND

Residents of West Centralville Advocating Project

Petition Will Be Presented to the Municipal Council

The question of a public park and playground in West Centralville is again being taken up by the residents of that section of the city, and accordingly a petition is being circulated among the voters for the purchase of the so-called Hildreth estate extending from Island street to Livermore street, alongside of the Merrimack river. The same will be presented to the municipal council, some time this week, for already the petition bears over two hundred names, the majority of which are business men.

The project for a public park and playground in that district has been submitted on several questions, and petitions have been presented the council, but with no result. This tract of land which is mentioned in the last petition is a most desirable spot for a park and playground, for it is a natural park, being lined with fine trees. It is near the water's edge, and at present is the resort of many mothers who carry their children in their arms. As it is, however, it is not fit for such purpose on account of the bad smell arising from the dump, but it is the opinion of many that the cost of putting the place in shape would not be very large.

The petition is as follows:

To the honorable municipal council of the city of Lowell: Respectfully represent the undersigned citizens of that portion of Lowell known as Centralville, that public convenience and necessity and the health and well being of the inhabitants of that portion of the city require that the land belonging to Florence and Hildreth Nesmith and bounded easterly by the canal owned by the city of Lowell, which contains a large tract of land of the proprietors of the Locks & Canals on Merrimack river, northerly by land recently purchased by said proprietors from Rowena Hildreth Beade and southerly by Island street, said land of Florence Hildreth Nesmith forming as it were, a natural park for the citizens of that portion of the city, and a natural playground for the children living there, be purchased by the city for a park and playground.

The petition is headed by the following names: Avila Desrosiers, 242 Cumberland road; Alexandra Gervais, 556 Lakeview avenue; Wilfrid Cordeau, 52 Dalion street; J. A. Foley, 227 Hildreth; Anthony Walsh, 255 Lakeview avenue, and about 200 others.

A prominent business man of that district when seen by the writer stated this morning that it is about time the city supplied that section of Lowell with a park and playground. He said there are over a thousand families including several thousand children in West Centralville, and practically no place to breathe fresh air in summer time.

This party said that part of Lowell is rapidly increasing in real estate property and at the present time there are new buildings in the process of construction to the amount of over $25,000, and as a proof he mentioned the following: Adolph Beaudet, three-story apartment house constructed of cement blocks in Alken avenue; Avila Desrosiers, two-apartment house in Cumberland road; Calliste Leguin, two-apartment in Fisher street; Charles E. Bourret, residence of eight rooms in Lakeview avenue; Simeon Venette, two-apartment house in West Sixth street; Henri Arsenault, two-apartment house in Sutherland street; Jacques Boivert, ten houses in the vicinity of Carolyn and West Sixth streets, and several others.

He said the birds that want six in which West Centralville is included, was much higher during the past year than in any other ward in the city. He also stated that the real estate valuation in West Centralville during the past year increased about $50,000, and many residents were proposing to build in the near future.

"The district is a congested one," continued the business man, "and its inhabitants have practically no place to breathe fresh air. The children are forced to play in the streets, exposed to great danger, and the only relief would be a park and playground which could be gotten at very little cost to the city, while it would afford great comfort and enjoyment for the children and mothers of that district." He concluded by saying he hopes the council this year will not reject the petition, and that the residents of West Centralville what they have been asking for a long time.

Dr. R. Mignault, who has been elected as a member of the park board to succeed Judge J. J. Pickman, when seen by the writer this morning stated that he was much in favor of parks and playgrounds, and said West Centralville was certainly in need of one. He said he did not favor any particular spot, for he has not looked into the matter, but approved the idea of working for a park. He said he also believes in planting trees in various parts of the city with the exception of the business districts, for trees are a great help to human beings, inasmuch as trees absorb carbon and reject oxygen, while human beings absorb oxygen and reject carbon. He said with him it is a matter of medical physiology, and for that reason he favors parks and playgrounds.

The residents of West Centralville have also another petition which they will soon introduce at city hall and that is for the macadamizing of Alken avenue from Lakeview avenue to Hildreth street. One of the men who signed the petition said that the avenue was in a very bad condition until the car line was installed there, at which time the pavement was torn off. The street was never put in its proper shape, and at the present time is covered with dust which is very disagreeable to the residents of that section.

Hildreth street from Lilye avenue to Alken avenue is also in bad shape and another petition for the macadam-

TRIAL OF JACK JOHNSON

Jury Box Emptied—The Jurors Approached

CHICAGO, May 7.—Stirring scenes were enacted yesterday in Federal Judge Carpenter's courtroom during the selection of a jury to try John Arthur Johnson, charged with violating the Mann act, the particular instance being the alleged transportation of Belle Schreiber, former Milwaukee madame, from Pittsburgh to Chicago for immoral purposes.

Prospective jurors were summarily excused when they delivered caustic opinions of relations between white and colored persons. There were break hints that prospective jurors had been approached on behalf of the defendant, and the jury box was emptied several times, despite the insistence of men that they would give the government and the black puglist a fair deal.

Attorneys for Johnson quizzed all prospective jurors closely on whether or not they had bet money on the Johnson-Jeffries fight or whether that event had affected any of their friends or relatives financially or otherwise. They were also asked if they bore any prejudice against a man because of his color or the fact that he was a prize fighter.

Important witnesses for the government are still missing, among them being Yank Kenney, Johnson's former trainer, who was expected to relate certain details of the training camps in California and Reno and also concerning Johnson's private training camp in Indiana. Federal sleuths have been hunting two days and nights for Kenney without the slightest trace of his whereabouts. Belle Schreiber is held a close prisoner in a downtown hotel, but was not permitted to go to the court room yesterday.

STATUE OF PRES. PIERCE

New Hampshire Senate Passes Bill

CONCORD, N. H., May 7.—Franklin Pierce, the only president of the United States from New Hampshire, seems assured at last of a statue by his native state. The senate yesterday passed a house bill providing for a $15,000 appropriation for the statue, to be erected on the state house grounds. Gov. Parker is expected to sign the measure.

The fact that Pierce was a democrat and a man who has aroused such strong opposition to a statue for him that appropriation bills for the purpose have always been killed by the long succession of republican legislatures. The present legislature is democratic, the first in 10 years.

REVOLVER AT WOMAN'S HEAD

Robber Threatened to Kill Her If She Moved

Other Ransacked House While Husband Was Asleep

NORWOOD, May 7.—Two masked burglars entered the home of Joseph McCarthy at 7 School street yesterday morning, and while one of them held Mrs. McCarthy at the point of a revolver in the hallway of the home, the other ransacked the rooms.

The gunman held the revolver close to the woman's head and threatened to kill both her and her sleeping husband if she made an outcry. His "pal" deftly went through the bureau drawers and secured a small amount of money and then stole $50 from the trousers pockets of the sleeping man.

House Robbed Before
The break is the second at the house within the past six months and in each instance the burglars have refused to take anything but money. Last Sunday night an attempt was made to enter the house and the burglars were frightened away and it is believed that the break yesterday was the work of men who were seen near the house on that night.

Mrs. McCarthy was awakened by the crying of one of her children and in passing through the hall to the room where her children were she suddenly came face to face with the burglars.

One of the men grabbed her before she had a chance to make an outcry and placed one hand on her throat and the other over her mouth. The men made an unsuccessful attempt to gag her, but when they were unable to find a suitable gag, one of them pulled a revolver and threatened her life, while the other went through the house.

The burglars escaped.

MONTHLY MEETING

Directors of Lowell Humane Society Listen to Report of Agent Richardson

The directors of the Lowell Humane society held their regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon in their new quarters, 71 Central street, and listened to the monthly report of Agent Charles F. Richardson, which proved very interesting.

Mr. Richardson reported 31 cases of neglected children, four of non-support, three drunken parents warned and three prosecutions. He said the work among animals for the month was large. Three horses were killed, six overloaded horses were relieved, one horse was given proper shelter, one galled and sore horse was protected, three fallen horses were assisted, 11 lame horses were kept from work and 15 horses tormented by loose bladders were relieved.

There were 546 horses examined during the month besides those listed above. The transportation of animals on trains and animals in slaughter houses were looked after, including 13 cows, five sheep, 27 pigs, and 311 crates of chickens and chickens in coops. There were 136 cats and 34 dogs killed. Five dogs were found good homes and five excavations were visited to look after working conditions of the horses. This was a total of 1212 animals looked after during the month of April.

A committee was appointed to find new quarters for the society on account of the plans of the new lessee of the building the society is now occupying.

FIRST IT WAS A HORSE

Then a Dog and Finally a Heifer

Sombody telephoned to the office of the board of health on Monday afternoon that there was a horse in Hale's brook.

"Dead or alive?" asked the fellow on the board of health end of the wire.

"Dead as a door nail," came the response.

The board of health man said that the dead horse would be attended to and a moment later the telephone "yelped" again.

"What is it?" queried the man who was endeavoring to decide what to do with the dead horse.

"There's a Newfoundland dog in Hale's brook," piped a high-voiced woman on the other end of the line.

"Sure it's a dog?" asked the board of health man.

"Of course it's a dog."

"Dead or alive?"

"If he was alive I wouldn't be telephoning."

"You're sure it isn't a water horse or a hippo?"

"Gimme and see for yourself," and bang went the telephone.

It looked like a joke to the board of health man and he dismissed it for the time being. He decided, however, to investigate on the comin' of the morn and men were sent out to look Hale's brook over in the vicinity of Tanner street. He told them what to look for and a little later the men reported back to the office that they had found the body of a heifer in the brook. "I have been connected with this department a good many years," said Agent Bates, "but this is my first experience with a horse-dog-heifer."

MANY CHILDREN AS LOBBYISTS

Galleries of House Filled With Them When Bill Extending School Age Was Under Discussion

Yesterday was children's day at the state house. Children lobbyists took the place of the regular lobbyists on the floor of the legislature. The galleries were filled with children who were brought there by friends of the bill. The bill was introduced by Mr. Boyle of New Bedford, and it was a landmark bill in the history of the state. It was a bill to extend the school age from 14 to 16 years. The bill was introduced in the house of representatives and it was passed by a large majority. The bill was then sent to the senate and it was also passed by a large majority. The bill was then signed by the governor and it became a law. ## "EVERY LITTLE OLIVE TABLET HAS A MOVEMENT ALL ITS OWN"

Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver. Dr. Edwards, a well known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Olive Tablets, the substitute for natural, are gentle in their action, but always effective. They bring about that buoyance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of harmful impurities.

houses and arms in scrubbing floors in the great office buildings. The bill was favored by Messrs. Gifford of Barnstable, Greenwood of Everett, Wood of Gardner, Morrill of Haverhill and Donovan of Boston, and was opposed by Messrs. B. F. Sullivan, E. E. McGrath of Boston, T. D. Sullivan of Fall River, W. J. Sullivan of Boston and Harrington of Fall River. The hour for taking a recess cut off debate.

Normal School System
The committee on education reported a resolve directing the state board of education to report to the next general court as to the adequacy of the present normal school system, and as to whether the present schools are located in such places as best serve the interests of the entire commonwealth.

Senate Committee's Report
In the senate, yesterday, the following reports of committees were received:

Fisheries and game—No legislation necessary on the recommendation of the commission on economy and efficiency for a change in the organization of the fish and game commission.

Street railways—Leave to withdraw to James Cummings on his petition for legislation relative to investment and issue of bonds by street railway companies.

Ways and means—Ought to pass on the following bills, that preference shall be given to citizens of the commonwealth in the employment of labor on the construction of public works; also for the publication by the secretary of the commonwealth of returns of vote cast at primaries. Subsequently, there being no objection, the report on the last named bill was withdrawn.

Senator Stearns of Cambridge withdrew his amendment to the pensioners and annuitants' bill, and the bill was then passed without debate or division.

The bill regarding police pensions in cities was passed to be engrossed without debate or division.

Sen. Forester of East Boston moved the substitution of the bill for the adverse report of the committee on public institutions on the resolve to appropriate $10,000 for the Free Home for Consumptives in Boston. He said that this is not a sectarian institution in its admission of patients, since the institution is open to everybody. Sen. Wells of Haverhill opposed substitution on the ground that this is a private institution. While sectarian institutions may be private, every private institution is not sectarian. He was opposed to the principle of the commonwealth paying money to private charities, although their institutions may admit public patients.

Senator Williams of Dedham moved to amend the bill to provide that there

President Greenwood appointed as the conference committee on the ice cream bill, Senators Milton of Framingham, Norwood of Hamilton, and McCarthy of Marlboro.

The Hobbs amendment to the bill for pensioning permanent and call firemen of cities, was adopted. Senator Gust of Worcester desired to modify his amendment, and the bill was postponed, on his motion, to the next session.

Sen. Williams withdrew his amendment to the "unwholesome food" bill, and the bill was adopted. The bill provides that whoever sells or offers for sale for food or drink any diseased animal or product thereof, or tainted or corrupt meat, fish or vegetables, except when packed in a container, that upon reasonable inspection, the condition of the contents thereof cannot be ascertained, without making the condition of the thing sold to the buyer, shall be punished by fine or not more than $200, or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. The bill as amended was then advanced to a third reading without debate.

PLEASING RURAL SKETCH

Presented at Kirk Street Church Vestry

"The Village Post Office," presented last night in the vestry of the Kirk Street church, was highly enjoyed by a large attendance. The piece, an exceedingly humorous one, was very well interpreted by those who took part and altogether, the presentation was a huge success.

The play as given last night was most realistic and the stage effects and properties were very cleverly arranged. The actors used to advantage the flexibility of the lines, turning them to appropriate and funny local hits. The scene of the group about the stove and the cracker barrel delighted the audience and kept them in continual laughter. ## AVIATOR ATWOOD SUE

RENO, Nev., May 7.—Sarah J. Atwood, wife of Harry N. Atwood, the aviator, yesterday filed a libel for divorce in the district court here. Mrs. Atwood alleges desertion and asks for the custody of a minor child. It is not believed that Atwood will contest the action.

Mrs. Atwood, before her marriage to Harry N. Atwood, was a Miss Jenkins of Lynn. She came to Reno about Nov. 1 of last year with her 3-year-old daughter, and rented a suite in a fashionable apartment house on the south side of the city. Mrs. Atwood had been in Reno for six weeks before it became generally known. Having apparently used every possible means to keep her identity a secret.

She used the simple name Mrs. Atwood, devoid of her own initials or that of her husband. At that time her efforts to maintain secrecy caused the circulation of a report that she came to Reno for the purpose of obtaining a divorce.

She at first evaded the subject when asked directly concerning her visit, but later declared positively that she did not come here for that purpose. At that time she told the newspaper men that she did not desire to talk about her private affairs, and declined to be interviewed at length, refusing even to answer the simple question as to where she came from to Reno.

Sullivan, who is the guide and chief factor in the strength and enthusiasm of the organization, addressed the boys, congratulating them upon their perseverance and interest in the society, explaining to them the great end of the organization and the duties of members. A field day is being planned for the summer, and the boys show much interest in this event. There will be baseball games and field sports and a general good time.

CHILD FELL TWO STORIES

Little Girl Had Narrow Escape

The ambulance had two calls in quick succession this morning. Both of them were in answer to accidents to small children who had suffered minor injuries. A child by the name of Adrian Plourde of 292 Cheever street, fell out of a second story window about 9 o'clock, and was taken to the Lowell hospital. Her injuries are only slight although the fall was some 15 feet. At about the same time, the ambulance was summoned to Basset street where five-year-old Alice Canagener needed medical assistance. The little girl was scalded by the overturning of a tea-kettle and was taken to the Lowell hospital.

PASSENGERS PANIC STRICKEN

PHILADELPHIA, May 7.—The buzzing of a bee around the face of Jostorm Schlater, causing him to lose control of his car in Germantown yesterday, resulted in a series of accidents. Several passengers were injured, two wagons were damaged and the car itself was almost demolished. The passengers were panic stricken as the car rushed on its unguided course, the motorman having jumped from the platform when he saw a collision with a heavy wagon was inevitable. Meanwhile, the conductor tried to check the car's flight by pulling the pole from the wire but the vehicle was not brought to a stop until it leaped the track and crashed into an iron pole.

Muralite?

is the best material ever made for tinting and decorating plastered, sandfinished, wall-papered, painted and combed surfaces. It is similar to kalsomine in character but much more satisfactory. Furnished in its original pure white color and in many soft, beautiful tints. Sold in powdered form requiring to be simply mixed with water.

MURALITE is very easy to mix and apply, dries rapidly with a pleasant odor and presents a soft, clear, durable and most artistic water-color effect. It is far superior to paint, wall paper, kalsomine or any of the wall finishes heretofore made and forms a sanitary, fire-proof and beautiful coating for walls and ceilings; an ideal background for pictures, bric-a-brac and furniture.

MURALITE is not an experiment, but a thoroughly demonstrated success. It is made by the most experienced kalsomine experts in the world and is being used by thousands of the leading master painters throughout the country. It is the standard material of its kind and has won its popularity wholly because of its exceptional merit.

MURALITE is recommended for the following reasons:
Saves time, trouble, material and expense.
Can be used by almost anyone and upon almost any surface with success.
Covers splendidly and generally with one coat.
Can be second-coated easily.
Will not rub off, chip nor peel.
Can be easily washed off with water and a sponge whenever necessary.

FULL FLEDGED COMMISSIONERS

Dr. R. Mignault and John H. Mills, who at the last meeting of the municipal council were elected to the park board, called at the city clerk's office this morning and took the oath, qualifying for said positions.
Dr. Mignault later paid a visit to the superintendent of the park department and while there met one of his colleagues, Henry P. Carr, the meeting being a most pleasant one.

At Fort Hill Park
Supt. Kernan of the park department announced this morning that Fort Hill park is being put in shape. A number of employees of the department are on the job planting flowers, mowing the grass, and doing various jobs around the grounds, and thus far a very noticeable change can be seen. "It is to be regretted, however," said Mr. Kernan, "that the children have already caused damage to the pretty plants which adorn this beautiful park. Some of them walked over the lawn and even went as far as plucking some of the flowers." It is understood that there is no police officer stationed around the grounds at the present time.

Horse is Indisposed
The one and only horse in the park department is now on the sick list and reported unfit for duty, and the absence of poor "Duke" is greatly felt all over the department. The question is how will the men get along without the services of the horse which has been in the department for, well, the superintendent does not know how long.

The department is soon to invest $50 for new lawn mowers, as those now being used will soon be out of commission.

Ball Players, Beware!
The amateur baseball players are requested to take notice that a permit from the superintendent of parks is needed for the privilege of the diamonds on either the North or South commons. First come, first served, is the rule, and in this manner there will be no more trouble on the ball grounds especially on Saturday afternoons, when two or more teams line up for this favorite sport. Last Saturday there was some friction on the South commons diamond between several bare ball teams, each claiming to have been there first. Park Commissioner Carr, who happened to be on the premises at the time, settled the matter, when one of the teams produced a permit from the office of the park department, stating that a permit was needed to obtain the grounds.

The carpenters of the department have started their annual tour of the commons, inspecting the settees and repairing the same. Later they will be painting and the concrete walks will be repaired.

WOMAN BEATEN TO DEATH

ABINGTON, May 7.—Testimony tending to show that Mrs. Winifred Sutherland was beaten to death with a chair wielded by her husband, James H. Sutherland, at their home in Whitman, was given by Chief of Police E. Brouillard of Whitman at a hearing today.

Mrs. Sutherland died April 28 as the result of terrible bruises which her husband said were caused by falling down stairs.
Charged With Assault
MILFORD, May 7.—Charged with an assault on a loyal worker of the Draper company mills at Hopkedge, Canille Ballavamp of 55 Park street, Milford, and Joe Bollo of 18 Beach street were arrested early today by a squad of police and special officers, who made their way with drawn clubs through a crowd of more than 100 strikers and sympathizers.

The trouble arose when Jules Harratt, a loyal worker, turned out at South Box street into Main street. Instantly he was surrounded by the strikers.

According to the story told by Bollo later, Harratt pulled a gun. Bollo alleges that he jumped on Harratt when he saw the gun and wrestled it from his grasp. The police, however, were unable to find any trace of a revolver.

"THE GREATEST KIDNEY REMEDY ON EARTH," SAYS A GRATEFUL WOMAN

I want to tell you how much good your Swamp-Root did me. About four years ago I suffered from what the doctors called fistula and for two years of that time I endured what no tongue can tell. I also had inflammation of the bladder and I tried doctors' medicines without receiving any help. Someone told me about Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

After giving it a thorough trial, I received relief, so kept on using it and today I am a strong and well woman. If I ever feel badly or out of sorts, I take Swamp-Root and it always straightens me out. I honestly believe that this medicine would cure all troubles you recommend it for and it is a pleasure for me to send my testimony and photograph to you. I think Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is one of the greatest medicines on earth.

Respectfully yours,

WHAT DOES IT PROFIT A MAN

To buy a refrigerator for $10; if it is going to cost him $5.00 more for ice every season than it would have cost him to run an Eddy Refrigerator that sells for $14.25? Think it over and don't forget to figure next season's extra cost, and next, and next. See the thickness of the EDDY walls. See the double cover over the ice chambers. Compare it to all others, thin walls and single cover. You will need no other argument.

KING ALFONSO ON VISIT TO FRANCE

Ruler Was Given Great Reception In Paris Today

Seven Who Cheered for Anarchist

Ferreira Arrested

PARIS, May 7.—King Alfonso of Spain arrived in Paris this morning with Premier Comte Roméras for a two days' official visit.

President Poincaré, Premier Barthou and all the members of the French cabinet were present to receive the royal party at the station and the king and M. Poincaré entered a carriage together, conversing cordially as they drove through the Avenue Du Bois De Boulogne and the Champs Elysees to the king's temporary residence at the Palais D'Orsay.

A succession of artillery salutes was fired and the whole route was lined on both sides by troops, some 25,000

infantry and cavalry being on duty. An immense crowd had gathered to await the king and greeted him with cheers. There was a general impression among the people that Spain was about to become the ally of France and King Alfonso's visit is regarded as a political effect of the first importance.

According to reports from the provinces there were few demonstrations during the king's journey from the frontier to Paris. Seven arrests, however, were made of men who cheered for the Spanish anarchist Ferreira, who was executed at Montjuich fortress in 1903.

MAINE MAN HUNT ENDS LIFE INSURANCE HEAD

Charles Roderick is Re-Raps Rep. Hull on the captured

NEWPORT, Me., May 7.—An abrupt finale came to a four days' man hunt with bloodhound accompaniment to efforts of a posse of constables, sheriffs, deputy volunteers and camp followers, when a policeman of this village last night tapped a rather unkempt fellow on the shoulder, bidding him come to the lockup, thus recapturing Charles Roderick, wanted at Foxcroft on a young girl's accusation and for breaking jail.

A rusty Queen Anne musket, long past fireability, went along with Roderick, and the countryside between Foxcroft and Bangor breathes easier today.

The measure, which was drawn by a commission after a lengthy investigation and has the approval of Mayor Gaynor, provides for giving peddlers special stand privileges at the approaches to East river bridges and in certain city squares. Its passage was bitterly opposed by the peddlers.

JUNK DEALER FINED $1000

BOSTON, May 7.—Bernard Hess, a New York junk dealer, was fined $1000 by Judge Martin in the United States district court yesterday on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with the sale of junk at the Charlestown navy yard.

Herman M. Comins of Roxbury, who acted as foreman for Hess, was fined $200 on the same charge. Both pleaded guilty.

The government charged that concealed weights were used in weighing the junk before the junk was loaded and that these weights were discarded when the junk was weighed in the wagon.

a fair bona fide criticism of political conditions. On the other hand, the plaintiffs counsel argued that articles taken together were libelous matter, inferring that plaintiff had been bribed to vote for Mr. Boulger. Both sides went deeply into the subject of the police board affair and the election of Thomas P. Boulger.

Mr. Howard argued that if the jury find that the articles in question taken together infer that Mr. Brown was bribed to vote for Mr. Boulger, then the verdict must be for the plaintiff. Mr. Howard repeated this several times in the course of his summing up address to the jury.

It was nearly one o'clock when Mr. Howard concluded and Judge Pratt began his charge to the jury. He opened with a review of the charges of the plaintiff in the case and the grounds on which the suit was brought, saying that plaintiff claims the articles were libelous and injurious inasmuch as they infer that he accepted a bribe. The defense, said Judge Pratt, maintains that the articles in question were exhortations to the voters, criticisms, etc. and that in them there was nothing personal to the plaintiff any more than to the dozen or more other candidates for public office. These, he said to the jury, constitute the only matter for them to consider in the case. The voting of Mr. Brown for Mr. Boulger, the police board matter, of which the court said there is no doubt, gave rise to an occasion upon which it is the privilege of a newspaper to comment and criticize conditions, provided the paper does so in good faith and in the manner in which the defendant claims his publication did; in such a case, the verdict must be for the defendant. It is for the jury to determine whether or not the articles taken as a whole do charge Mr. Brown with having taken a bribe, not because the plaintiff thinks they did, nor from what Mr. Long claims he intended by the articles. "If you find that the articles taken together do make such a charge against the plaintiff, then the verdict must be for the plaintiff," said Judge Pratt in conclusion. The entire charge occupied but twenty minutes.

The court told the jury to go to dinner then, and on their return at two o'clock, they took up the consideration of the case.

Joyce vs. Polish Home Association

This afternoon in the superior civil session, the next case on the list, was that of Joyce vs. Polish National Home association of Lowell, an action of tort. It appears that the defendant purchased the building said to be located at the corner of Cornhill street and Lakeview avenue and at the time certain fixtures were attached to the property. The plaintiff charges that the defendant did not purchase the fixtures with the real estate and that the defendant has converted to its own use goods of said plaintiff, enumerated as follows: Two wooden ale and liquor bars, 2 back bars with mirrors and other equipments, 2 drains with plumbing brass and lead pipes connected with drains, 1 water motor, 1 air tank and rubber tubing, 20 bar faucets, 29 liquor faucets, 1 beer cabinet and fittings, 1 kitchen drainer, 1 counter and wall case in wholesale department, 2 brass bar rails, 1 lunch counter, 5 barrel skids, a set of liquor skids, and all signs and awnings.

Plaintiff claims that the defendant refused to deliver these and that he (plaintiff) has incurred damage to the extent of $3,000.

In answer the defense denies all the material allegations of its opponent and further states that since the entry of the plaintiff's writ, the plaintiff by its servants and agents made forcible and unlawful entry in and upon the defendant's premises and feloniously detached and carried away certain of the signs mentioned, to the great damage of the defendant and of the building.

The plaintiff's claim seems to be that the aforesaid fixtures are not part of the estate sold to the defendant by a third party who the defense says that was a part of it for they cannot be removed without damage to the building.

The attorneys are: For the plaintiff, T. J. Enright and J. J. Hogan; for the defense, J. T. Masterson and F. W. & E. E. Qua.

The first witness was a Mr. John Cabnet maker, who testified regarding the character, size and value of the fixtures which he furnished, describing them. He occupied the stand for a considerable length of time.

Yesterday Afternoon's Session

Commissioner George H. Brown was on the stand at the superior civil court most of yesterday afternoon in the trial of his libel suit against Dennis A. Long, proprietor of a Sunday newspaper.

During the examination as to the 42 charges preferred against members of the police board, witness in reply to a question as to whether or not he had preferred the charges, replied that Mr. Murphy and the city solicitor preferred them. This gave rise to a number of repetitions of the question in order to obtain a definite answer as to his stand in the matter and Mr. Brown would not accept the authorship of the charges, claiming that they were brought through the efforts of Mr. Murphy and the city solicitor. When Mr. Murphy read a number of the charges one by one and asked Mr. Brown if they were among the 42, witness repeatedly answered to each:

"That was one of the 42 charges preferred by you."

Mr. Brown further stated in answer to questions of the counsel for the defense that he had demanded as mayor of the city that the police board books be turned over to the attorneys.

Later witness was questioned in regard to his policies and the issues of his various campaigns.

"You gradually dropped the question of the abuses of liquor as your issues and took up the water department, did you not?" inquired Mr. Murphy.

"No sir," witness replied; "I used the water department in 1903, but I never changed from the liquor question to the water."

Mr. Brown stated that the charges against the police board were preferred at the advice of counsel, Messrs. McEvoy and Murphy, who Brown stated were unfriendly to Mr. Boulger. Mr. Brown further said that he removed the three commissioners because he was advised that it was his duty to do so and because of the evidence against them.

Asked why he voted for Mr. Boulger in 1912, witness replied: "I wanted to undo the injustice I did to Mr. Boulger."

Commissioner Brown replied to statements made at the meeting of the municipal council on Tuesday has issued the following statement:

I was head of the department of streets and highways and put in loan order and no allowance was made for extra cost of excavation and now blocks to be purchased, for estimate was made with intention of old block being recut.

LOWELL MILLS SHORT ON HELP

porter for The Sun called at the Tremont and Suffolk mills yesterday to find out about a new outfitting plant that was being manufactured there and also to ascertain if it were true that the agent Connell was unable to hire all the help he wanted.

The reporter was ushered into Mr. Connell's office and the conversation drifted to the tariff and its possible effect upon the textile industry of the country. "The tariff," said Mr. Connell, "is undoubtedly causing some alarm, like heavy clouds portend the storm. But you know it is a fact that sometimes the storm doesn't break. Undoubtedly there will come some change in the tariff, but there is no sense in howling before you're hit."

Short One Hundred Hands

"Is it true that you are short of help?" queried the reporter.

"Yes," replied Mr. Connell. "I am at least 100 hands short today. It seems almost incredible that with 3000 operatives out of employment in Lawrence, and large congregations of the idle in the streets and parks of this city, that we should have to go shy on help."

"Possibly these people don't know we are short of help. In fact I think that must be the case, for I feel sure that if they knew a great many of them would prefer to work rather than remain idle. We were speaking of the tariff a minute ago and I might suggest that with the tariff clauses hanging over us and the possibility, as has been stated in the press and by men in the business, that the mills may have to go on short time, it would be to the advantage of the unemployed to get a few leaves ahead. I would like to run full but I must have help to do it. We are using 1200 bales of cotton a week at the present time and if we were running full we would be using between 1400 and 1500 bales."

New Outfitting Plant

In reply to the reporter's query relative to the new outfitting plant, Mr. Connell said: "Certain lines of our goods that used to be carried by the printers have not been selling profitably for the past few years and we concluded not to make any of these goods this year. In their place we are making an outfitting plant which we call the 'Lawrence Domet.' This has caught on in great shape with the trade and we hope to have a large run. We are running several hundred looms on this plant at the present time."

"That was one of the 42 charges preferred by you."

Mr. Brown further stated in answer to questions of the counsel for the defense that he had demanded as mayor of the city that the police board books be turned over to the attorneys.

Later witness was questioned in regard to his policies and the issues of his various campaigns.

"You gradually dropped the question of the abuses of liquor as your issues and took up the water department, did you not?" inquired Mr. Murphy.

I was head of the department of streets and highways and put in loan order and no allowance was made for extra cost of excavation and now blocks to be purchased, for estimate was made with intention of old block being recut.

The present commissioner of streets and highways did not, I know, call attention to the fact that there were about 100,000 paving block on hand which had been recut and paid for, but he did mention that there were blocks on hand, which if they they have not been paid, have been charged up to unpaid liabilities.

I have asked the civil engineer to forward to me certain data in regard to paving and also have requested commissioner of streets to verify my statement, but I have had no response to my request.

SWORD DUEL IN PARIS

Noted Fencers Clash as Result of Quarrel

PARIS, May 7.—A severe sword duel arising out of a quarrel three years ago was fought today between H. C. Berger, son of the Paris deputy, and Georges Breitlmayer, both noted fencers, on the lawn of the Chateau D'Orly, about seven miles south of Paris, and resulted in Berger receiving a serious wound on the right breast.

As under the French law no duel may be fought in secret the combat was witnessed by 60 well known Parisians and a large body of reporters. The duel had been delayed owing to the marriage of Berger. A short time since he quarreled with another man and challenged him to fight, but according to the French code of honor the deed could not be fought until he had first crossed swords with Breitlmayer. The second duel probably will take place as soon as Berger has recovered.

Municipal Election

LOS ANGELES, May 7. Complete returns early today from yesterday's primary election indicated that John Sherk, municipal conference candidate, and H. H. Rose, Independent, would be the candidates for the majority at the election on June 3. Job Harriman, socialist candidate, who made such a strong showing 18 months ago, was apparently defeated, although the latest returns showed him to be less than 1000 votes behind Rose, who in turn was more than 12,000 votes behind Sherk. The socialist party, however, will have a good representation on both the councilmanic and board of education tickets on the election ballot. Four or more socialist candidates are assured of nominations, including Mrs. Milla Tupper Maynard, a socialist lecturer.

$105,000 LOSS IN THREE FIRES

Three Alarms for Each While Others Are
Burning—Entire Fire Fighting Force
In Action for Hours

BOSTON, May 7.—Three three-alarm fires in Boston yesterday kept practically the entire fire-fighting force of the city in action for hours and caused a property damage totalling $105,000. From noon, when the big six-story warehouse of Prescott & Co., 324 Congress street, burst into flames, until the all out sounded for the third fire, started by an incendiary in the Boston & Maine freight yards on Rutherford avenue, Charlestown, late last night, the clanging apparatus rushed through the streets in answer to the alarms sent in in record procession.

Scrambled firemen went from fire to fire and at midnight they ended their worst day fighting for many years. Charlestown was the scene of the two worst fires of the day. Both came in the early evening. Within three minutes after the out signal sounded for the control of the blaze in the Palmer & Parker lumber yard on Medford street, the first of the last series of three alarms had rung in for the Boston & Maine freight shed fire, where six box cars and a freight shed were destroyed.

Crowded tenement houses adjoining both Charlestown fires were threatened by the flames. Practically all the Charlestown fire apparatus and as much as could be spared from the city proper was at the lumber yard fire, and the flames in the hay-storage freight shed had gained tremendous headway before the firemen got there.

Hunt For Firebug
The police of the City Square station are combing their district for the incendiary. They suspect he is the same firebug who three months ago started a three-alarm fire in freight shed 10 and then kindled a two-alarm fire in Bryant's undertaking establishment, half a mile away, within less than an hour.

The flames kindled by the firebug last night came very near sweeping across Charlestown to the Mystic. At one time the fire was leaping many feet into the air for more than 100 yards of the length of freight shed 35. Blazing sparks were carried by the brisk southwest breeze for a quarter of a mile over the roofs of tenement houses south of Sullivan square.

Dairy Plant Ignites

Fire Chief Mullen massed his men along the windward side of the long shed and they fought desperately to keep the flames from jumping across Rutherford avenue into the flimsy frame dwellings toward Main street.

The large dairy plant of H. P. Hood & Sons, adjoining on the south, caught several times, but was saved. A milk car at the receiving platform was kindled by sparks, but Bryan Sullivan, the shipping clerk, organized a brigade of Hood employees and they saved it with patented extinguishers.

Hampered By Smoke

Dense clouds of suffocating smoke eddied close to the ground and added to the firemen's difficulties. For more than an hour they poured tons of water into the building before they had the fire under control.

This is the first time in the memory of the oldest members of the department when three three-alarm fires came practically simultaneously. The excitement started just before noon, when fire was discovered in the basement of the six-story warehouse building at 324 Congress street, South Boston.

This building, occupied by Prescott & Co. as a storehouse for their kitchen wares, is in the wool district so dreaded by the fire department.

Prescott & Co. estimate their loss at $50,000, covered by insurance. The National Wool and Warehouse company, adjoining, suffered a slight smoke and water damage as did Lodge.

Lumber Yard Ablaze

At 5:35, almost two hours before the Congress street fire was conquered, the lumber yard fire was discovered in Charlestown, and part of the apparatus had to rush over there.

Herbert T. Townsend, in charge of the dry-house in Palmer & Parker's big yard on Medford street, was just entering the building when he saw flashes of fire about the electric metre box. Before he could ring an alarm from box 431 at the foot of Tufts street, the Circassian walnuts and mahogany woods and veneers in the dry-house were burning fiercely.

The flames were through the roof of the dry-house and the sawmill and No. 2 storehouse, filled with thousands of dollars' worth of kiln-dried mahogany, had caught by that time.

Three big piles of air-dried mahogany in the yard were afire, and the wind was showering sparks into the James P. Stewart coal and wood wharf. The loss is estimated at $25,000.

Driven From House

Eugene Tyrrell, an employee of Palmer & Parker, and his family of six were driven from their home at 53 Medford street. The house was filled with smoke, and the rear, next the dry-house, was burning briskly several times.

Palmer & Parker's lumber yard is the largest of its kind in the country. They have a quarter of a million dollars' worth of imported and domestic fancy veneers and woods stored on the premises. In September of 1910 they had a somewhat similar fire, which caused $50,000 damage.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Opera House

It would be hard to select two more timely topics than "The Making of the Panama Canal" and "Actual Scenes of the Balkan War," now being shown by the Kinemacolor Co. at the Opera House. These pictures are in the Kinemacolor process of natural color motion photography which made the Kinemacolor representation of the Coronation of King George and the Durbar so noteworthy. Not only are the present subjects more interesting to Americans than the Coronation and Durbar could be, but it is said that the Kinemacolor process has itself been vastly improved and that, therefore, these pictures are more beautiful than their predecessors in popular favor. So lifelike is the magic of this long sought process that every color of nature, whether it be the scarlet of some strange tropical blossom or the indigo of the summer seas that wash the isthmus on either side, is reproduced in all exactitude and in every exquisite shading for the benefit of the spectator. And as well does the natural color reproduce the actual scenes of warfare for the spectator. The Durbar pictures are also a part of the program. Tomorrow and for the last four days of the engagement "The Coronation" will be seen.

Merrimack Square Theatre

"Quincy Adams Sawyer" is the latest play ever written. The comedy scenes are strong and many, and the tender seriousness of the sentimental portions being only sweet content and satisfaction unmingled with regret or sadness. It is being presented at the Merrimack Square this week and is delighting large audiences every performance.

The Company G Glee club and Alice Bagley, Lowell's own favorite will be among the features on next Sunday's bill.

Next week "Sapho" will be the attraction with Miss Grace Young in the title role when she will wear for the first time her famous Grecian gown.

Keith's Theatre

There's but one way to enjoy a show, and that's in a place where the air is cool and where ventilation is perfect. The place in Lowell where one may see a good show and at the same time be comfortable is the E. F. Keith theatre. Yesterday, with the thermometer showing 55 degrees, the theatre atmosphere stood at 68 degrees. And not all the cool air in the place was turned on at that. "The Honey Girls" offer a lively entertainment. Their musical skill is in three scenes, and for fun-makers there are Ben Small and Harry Brown. The costume changes are numerous.

GANGS

One of the most prolific sources of crime and law breaking in cities is the formation of gangs or definite groups which form in different sections throughout the city, and gradually absorb the worst elements of the neighborhood. As an instance of the abuse that this tendency leads to we have the recent example of the arrest of six members of such a gang from the neighborhood of Moody and Tilden streets and the testimony of the police officer who arrested them to the effect that he had experienced trouble from them for a long time.

What is true of the arrested gang is also true of like groups in other parts of the city. At the beginning they may be innocent enough. Boys are drawn together in a social and friendly spirit. They joke, sing and chaff each other good-naturedly. Then they crave for the society of each other and the seeds of evil are planted. Gradually the bad influence of some individual or individuals is felt. Instead of harmless laugh and joke are heard obscene jests, swearing, and blasphemy. They jeer at passersby and hurl epithets at women and girls. They respect neither the rights of person or property, and crave the continual excitement of being watched by the police. Such groups are usually led by some vicious bully and completely subservient to his will.

The summertime is particularly favorable to the formation of such groups, and the police activity could not be better directed than in their disbanding. Even in their initial innocent stages, they should not be allowed to congregate constantly at the same place. By disbanding them at their inception, much crime might be prevented. So contagious is had example that the loftiest character is sometimes affected by the contaminating influence of immoral and lawless groups of idlers.

In the great cities of America, the waves of crime which often shock the people of the entire country are often the result of organized bands or so-called gangs. Undoubtedly many such terrible combinations began as innocently in their infancy as some of the crowds which you may see nightly at street corners or in the commons and parks. It would be well if the police would keep this in mind when keeping a watch on gangs of idle and mischievous boys frequenting the same neighborhood nightly and that should be broken up. Such action would be appreciated by the general public and by the property owners as well as by many fathers and mothers who note but too well the demoralizing influence of the "gang" on their children.

WAGE REDUCTIONS

It is with a sense of security and re-assurance that the country will receive the declaration of Secretary Redfield that if reduction in the wages of workmen follows the enactment of the democratic tariff bill, the investigating powers of the department of commerce will be called in to establish whether they are necessitated by the new legislation, or simply born of political intrigue.

Since the democratic determination to amend the tariff was announced, some of those who until now have been enabled by the tariff to make abnormal gains, have sent out wailing prophecies of coming disaster, and injury to labor. This was to be expected. But when they announce wage reductions the reflection must intrude itself into the minds of many that to get back to the old order of things some of these prophets would not hesitate to misuse their influence on the industrial situation so as to harass, if not defeat, the government. Although all right minded people irrespective of party, including such an eminent man as Ex-President Taft, call for co-operation, there are undoubtedly some who are planning to make possible the old unjust imputation that a democratic administration and industrial prosperity cannot exist together in America.

In this connection there is no misunderstanding or second interpretation of the words of Secretary Redfield as to the intentions of the government. "We don't feel disposed to accept at par the statement of the interests themselves as to the effects of the tariff bill, but will make a thorough investigation through the bureau of domestic and foreign commerce."

This will mark a new departure in government procedure but like most of the other innovations of the present administration it will meet with an instantaneous response from all sincere people—manufacturers as well as ordinary citizens.

WIDENING OF ROGERS STREET

The widening of Rogers street from Nemuth to Esplanade, and Nemuth street at its junction with Rogers, for which the mayor has asked the city engineer for estimates is a very necessary improvement.

That being one of the principal approaches to the city, the traffic thereon is enormous, and the bad condition of the street has made it a source of danger to automobilists or others who have driven that way.

Besides being made imperative by the needs of traffic, the growing importance of the section of the city which it intersects calls for improvements. Skirting as it does, the finest of our parks, it is fitting that Rogers street should in no way detract from the beauty of the surrounding territory. With the development of Shedd park the view from Rogers street will be one of our civic boasts, and the streets in the immediate vicinity will be more patronized than they are now, even though the present traffic is considerable.

The improvement would also tend to improve the value of adjacent property and set a high standard for the buildings which will be erected in the neighborhood for the future. This is also an important consideration and not the least of those which will commend the proposal of the mayor to popular approval.

TWO NEW MEMBERS

The two new members of the park commission, Dr. Mignault, and Mr. John H. Mills, take up the duties of their new position at a time when they can prove of the greatest service to the people of the city. In the developing of Shedd park and the suggested South common improvements, they will find much to take up their immediate attention, but they have a splendid opportunity to work for a further improvement, which is one of the crying needs of the present time in Lowell—public baths. The men who will make such a reality in this city will have gladdened the hearts of thousands of the children; they will have saved many lives; they will have merited the fullest mead of public gratitude. We hope that the new members of the commission will reach the high place in public esteem which was held by the distinguished men they succeed.

TO LOWELL

The Lowell automobile league has done a good thing in ordering the three hundred sign boards which are to be placed in all directions, containing the message to travelers that Lowell is not far distant, and pointing out the way to reach our city. Signs such as these will do far more than direct travelers. Even to those who are passing by, and have no intention of traversing our busy streets, they will tell a tale of modern enterprise. They will advertise the city, especially as their great number and location will repeat to automobilists and others who use the surrounding roads that we are alive and thinking. Some of these people may not visit us, but they will realize that there is such a city as Lowell on the map and that her enterprise is thus shown miles beyond her limits.

SIMPLE GRADUATIONS

The latest advocate of simple graduations, and one of the most notable, is Dr. Dyer, the superintendent of the Boston schools, who, in a report just submitted to the school committee of that city says among other things:

"Graduation exercises should be extremely simple and school time should not be diverted to their preparation. The graduation program should be rigidly adhered to in regard to time. Children should be encouraged to dress simply, and public presentation of flowers and presents should be discouraged. Awarding of diplomas should be the principal feature."

In urging this reform, he voices a sentiment that is growing all over the country, and outlines a program that all schools might follow advantageously.

Why not make up your mind that you want dandelions on your lawn, and so be contented, instead of fretting because you can't get rid of them.

It wouldn't be so discouraging to try and fail if there weren't sure to be some one around to say: "I told you so."

Some men are so eager for publicity that they are pleased to see their names in print, even in a jury list.

When women have the vote, it won't do for the politicians to talk so much about putting their dependence on the plain people.

We circle every town and extortionate note for advertisements. Buy it. Buy it."—Belfast News.

Some people have remarked that Sunn Welch was greatly disappointed Saturday afternoon. He was prepared for any emergency but after all his trouble nothing happened. There was nothing to do; the waiting men and patrols were needless and some wag at the close of the day reminded the superintendent of that famous king who marched up the hill with twelve thousand men and then marched down again.

Mr. Albert Ramsay, of 113 Chelmsford street, sent to the Sun office, the other day, a copy of the first newspaper ever published in the western hemisphere. It is headed "The Boston News-Letter" and is dated "Monday, April 17 to Monday, April 24, 1704." Its editor, printer, reporter and publisher was one John Campbell, the postmaster of the town of Boston. Most of the news appearing on the single page of the paper had to do with the parliamentary happenings in London of the preceding December's session. It contained some real hot articles against the claims of the Jacobites and their ill-starred leader, the Pretender, and is permeated with the religious bitterness which existed between the two great English parties of that day. There is but little local news in the paper. A few extracts may be of interest.

"Mr. Nathaniel Oliver, a principal Merchant of this place, died April 15 & was decently interred April 18. Aetatis 53."

"Boston, April 18—Arrived Capt. Sill from Jamaica about 4 Weeks Paffage; says they continue there very sickly."

THE BONFIRE

When cleaning-up time comes in spring, And gardens everywhere Are spaded, the scent Of bonfires fills the air. The pungent smoke that made us cough.

And sends no longer blows Across the yard, to madden Kate A-hanging out the clothes.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Good Service
Brooklyn Times: One of the western railroads plans to encourage its employees to stay stock in the road as a means of promoting interest in good service. The plan might be greatly improved if their men were not only on the railroad but for it.

The Small Boy
Fall River Herald: The burden of republican oratory that is fearfully telling the democratic majority that it will be sorry for passing its new tariff bill reminds one of the small boy who proclaims his purpose of revenge for a pummeling by a playmate by going home to tell pa.

A Fine Witness
Portland Express: President Charles S. Mellen makes a fine witness. It is something unusual for the president of a railroad to criticize its management, but the very fact of such criticism indicates that Mr. Mellen wishes to treat the subject fairly. From his testimony it is apparent that he has faith in his road. The road, of course, is carrying some heavy loads at present, but these the president thinks can be gotten rid of without material difficulty.

Correct Weight
Lynn News: In these days of high living cost the purchaser of commodities is entitled to every ounce he pays for, and he should be obliged to pay food prices for paper or wood containers. When he is forced to do this he is paying rather a long price for materials that cost the purveyor but little and do not add to the well being of the buyer. If a merchant cannot afford to wrap his goods up without exacting prices that are higher at food prices he ought to get into some other business.

Good Advice
Worcester Post: The New Bedford cotton manufacturers who are indulging themselves with all sorts of levities, or, if forced, over the Underwood bill, got some wholesome advice in the speech of Walter H. Creamer of Lynn at the dinner of the democratic club here the other evening. He had, he said, as a shoe manufacturer been in the successful fight to place shoes on the free list. If the shoe men can compete with the world there is no reason why the cotton men cannot do the same, he declared.

President's Health
Pittsburgh Gazette: It is less than two months since Woodrow Wilson became president, but already he has had several significant warnings that he must look after his health by refraining from too persistent application to duties. They say in Washington that he has found his new office to impose much heavier obligations than any post heretofore occupied by him, if not greater than he had supposed was the case. Mr. Wilson is not especially robust. Although older than either of them, he has not the physique of Colonel Roosevelt or Professor Taft, and in the nature of things it is doubtful whether he can stand the wear and tear to which they subjected themselves without apparent impairment of their vigor.

Compliments
Springfield Union: It was Theodore Roosevelt who said of President Taft: "He means well, but he means weakly." It was Gov. Hiram Johnson who referred to President Taft as "the most humiliating figure in American history." On the other hand, it is discovered that President Wilson is "weak" and that his eyes are "in the back of his head." Progressive orators have a particular penchant for belittling and disparaging our national executives. Thus far Mr. Wilson is getting off more easily than Mr. Taft in that respect. But he cannot expect to command much respect from the monopolists of sanctity and militant strenuousity.

NEW YORK, May 7.—James F. Thompson, James E. Hussey, John J. Murtha and Dennis Sweeney, the four demoted inspectors charged with conspiracy to obstruct justice, were convicted by a jury in the supreme court shortly after 8 o'clock last night.

Only 38 minutes was taken by the jurors in which to reach their verdict that the defendants were guilty of a misdemeanor in plotting to keep a prospective witness against the "system" from making great disclosures before the grand jury.

Disorder in Court

The accused officials stood outwardly unmoved as they heard the verdict. The crowd in the courtroom, however, created a disturbance, shuffling chairs and feet until attendants checked the disorder. The prisoners gave their pedigrees and after being remanded for sentence Friday they were returned to their cells. Their counsel announced that a certificate of reasonable doubt will be sought. If it is granted the prisoners will be admitted to bail pending efforts to secure a new trial.

The penalty for obstruction of justice is one year in jail or a fine of $500, or both. It was reported that the jury required only one ballot to reach its decision.

Seven-Day Trial

The men were on trial seven court days. District Attorney Whitman and his assistants brought evidence to show that the four plotted to buy the silence of George A. Sipp, a resort-keeper, through bribing him, to flee the state last December. At that time the prosecutor was attacking the police "system" through graft disclosures made by Sipp and other witnesses before the aldermanic committee that was investigating the police department. For a period of years Sipp made monthly payments to the police for protection for his resort, he had told the committee. Before Mr. Whitman had a chance to get Sipp to repeat this testimony before the grand jury the hotel man took flight.

Upon being returned to the court's jurisdiction it developed that he had been bribed with $2000 to leave. Sipp so stated, and the prosecutor's inquiry into his story resulted in the joint indictment of the defendants, then inspectors.

CONVICT FOUR N.Y. INSPECTORS

Jurors Reached Verdict In Thirty-Eight Minutes

Will Be Sentenced Friday—Trial On Seven Days

NEW YORK, May 7.—James F. Thompson, James E. Hussey, John J. Murtha and Dennis Sweeney, the four demoted inspectors charged with conspiracy to obstruct justice, were convicted by a jury in the supreme court shortly after 8 o'clock last night.

Only 38 minutes was taken by the jurors in which to reach their verdict that the defendants were guilty of a misdemeanor in plotting to keep a prospective witness against the "system" from making great disclosures before the grand jury.

Carnival of Graft

NEW YORK, May 7.—The conviction last night of the demoted police inspectors, Dennis Sweeney, James E. Hussey, James Thompson, and John J. Murtha on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice was declared by District Attorney Charles Whitman today to be likely to lead to still more important work in clearing the police situation.

No explanation, however, of what further action is contemplated is forthcoming. The results thus far of the ten months' war to end the police system's "carnival of graft" have included the conviction or pleas of guilty by ten policemen and the conviction of several associates in crime. The list begins with Lieut. Charles Becker, who was convicted last October of the instigation of the murder in July of Herman Rosenthal because the latter threatened to expose police graft. In November four gunmen were convicted of the same crime and sent to Sing Sing where with Becker they are awaiting the execution of death sentences.

The Becker-Rosenthal case led to a general investigation of the sale of police protection for vice and crime. Revelations were made which forced Police Commissioner Eugene Fox and Captain Thomas Walsh to pleas of guilty of bribery, a confession of grafting by Policeman Wrenn, the conviction of John J. Hartigan, a patrolman, on charges of perjury, the conviction of Thomas F. Robinson on charges of extortion and the conviction yesterday of the four demoted police inspectors on charges of conspiracy in trying to buy the silence of a witness against them. The four former inspectors still stand accused of bribery under another indictment, there being 11 counts against Sweeney.

CARBONOL In The Sick Room

AS an antiseptic and disinfectant, Carbonol is the best friend of doctors and nurses. They use it for washing all sick room utensils in order to kill germs and prevent contagion.

For skin diseases they use it in solution to reduce inflammation and get rid of the poison. After the sick room is vacated, floors and walls and woodwork and all the furniture are washed in Carbonol before a healthy person is allowed to inhabit it. By these methods, Carbonol maintains hygienic conditions in the very face of disease.

Don't wait for disease, however, to use Carbonol. Use it as a preventive to keep disease out of the house. Maintain not only soap-and-water cleanliness, but also antiseptic cleanliness.

Live Bits of Sport

Henry Sullivan will carry the best wishes of a host of friends with him on his attempted conquest of the English channel. If Sullivan's name could be posted in the hall of fame with the names of Captain Webb and William T. Burgess, the Lowell boy, would indeed have accomplished a feat which the entire city could boast of.

Joe (Jiggs) Donahue, son of Daniel J. Donahue, Esq., who has played second base for the Dartmouth baseball team for three years, was badly injured during a workout on the campus yesterday. Joe, in reaching for a hard hit grounder, slipped and fell, striking the ground on his left shoulder. He suffered a severe dislocation of the shoulder and may not play again this season. Donahue was one of the heaviest hitters on the team and his loss will be deeply felt.

The Lowell team is playing real baseball at present and looks better with each succeeding game. Her pitchers seem to be working smoothly and if the box problem has really been solved Lawrence and the other penmen contenders had better win all the games they can right now. It looks

BARRON IN FINE FORM

And Lowell Won From New Bedford

Barron held New Bedford down to five hits yesterday and won his game by the score of 4 to 1. A passed ball by Monahan was the only fielding error that Lowell chalked up against her. Lowell got six hits, but these, combined with good base running, proved sufficient to pull out a win.

Monahan crossed the Whalers' infield in the eighth and beat out his hit along the third base line. Kihlman allowed him to steal second and he crossed the plate with Lowell's second run when Clements popped out a down-bye to right center. Weeden's error in the ninth allowed the local team to score two more runs and put the game on ice.

Clements had a great day in the middle garden, making four difficult put-outs and getting two hits. Halstein won the same reliable receiver at the initial sack that he has always been since donning a Lowell uniform. The Lowell infield played an air-tight fielding game throughout the nine innings. ## PERDUE WON FOR BRAVES

Wagner Back in Game for Pittsburgh

The Boston Braves celebrated their homecoming by taking the Pittsburgh Pirates into camp by the score of 3 to 0 in a ten inning game. Perdue was the pitcher for Boston and fanned the points for Boston and fanned the points for Pittsburgh. Wagner came up to bat with two men on the bases. Pittsburgh could only collect seven hits, the Boston twister lightening up in the pinches. Captain Sweeney scored the winning run for Boston in the 10th. He singled, then when Corey collided with the left fielder, Sweeney scored. The final score of the game, Maravilla contributed the fielding failures of the game as well as hitting safely three times. ## MINISTER GETS DIVORCE

Named Maine Man as Correspondent

HARTFORD, Conn., May 7.—Evelyn, an absolute divorce Judge Marcus H. Holcomb of the superior court yesterday afternoon awarded to the Rev. Cranston Brenton, professor of English literature at Trinity college and promulgator of the Episcopal church, the custody of his 7-year-old boy, Jonathan Brenton, who is now with his grandmother, Mrs. Benjamin Brenton, at Jamaica, L. I.

Though Mrs. Brenton brought the original action, she refused to press her suit when the trial was begun. The divorce was granted to Professor Brenton's ex-wife, who is now with his grandmother, Mrs. Benjamin Brenton, at Jamaica, L. I.

It has been persistently stated that Mrs. Brenton was most anxious that she be freed from her husband so that she might marry Holman, to whom she dedicated her poem, "The November," an acrostic in the poetical line, "To the November." To the November, O my love, The November was married June 15, 1911, and lived on Vernon street in this city, near Trinity college.

A settlement has been made between the master painters and the journeymen painters of this city, and at present only two or three shops are refused the services of union men.

The sign painters have also asked to be given the half holiday on Saturday, and already one of the leading sign painters of this city has signed the agreement and others have taken it under consideration. It is understood that a provision will be put on the sign painters' agreement, allowing the men to work Saturday afternoons in case of emergency or when it is sanctioned by the union.

THE PHILIPPINES

Lieut. O'Flaherty Will Show His Magnificent Views For Benefit of Crittenton League

The magnificent color-slides of the Philippines, to be shown at the lecture by Lieut. O'Flaherty tomorrow night at the Kirk street church, for the benefit of the Florence Crittenton league, surpass in attractiveness any collection of pictures ever seen in Lowell.

The lecturer will tell of many exciting and romantic experiences during his service as an officer in the Philippine army, and of his visit to the southern part of the archipelago. A year ago Mr. O'Flaherty revisited the Philippines as a tourist, and secured many unique views of native life and scenery in the Sulu group, land of the fierce Mohammedan Moros.

Mr. O'Flaherty's travel tour will begin at the harbor of Manila, and he will show some interesting pictures of the new fortifications and the expensive improvements in the great bay of Luzon, the first landing place of our troops in the islands.

From new and old Manila the lecturer will chaperon his audience on a flying trip through the principal islands of the archipelago, concluding with a like-tour of the Sulu, the most interesting group of tropical islands in the Orient.

Much interest in this lecture has been aroused in the public schools of the city, as Mr. O'Flaherty is widely known as the children's soldier-lecturer.

The travel lecture will begin at 8:15 and close at 9:30 o'clock.

FIREMEN REMOVED FLAG

Banner Taken Down

GREAT CHEERING WHEN EMBLEM WAS PULLED DOWN

Serious Trouble Is Feared at East Liverpool, Conn.—Patriotic Societies Object to Colors Flying

CONTRAST BETWEEN patriotic societies of the city and the socialist organization over whether the socialists should fly a red flag from their headquarters reached a crisis this morning when Mayor R. J. Marshall ordered the fire department to remove the offending flag. It was taken down in about half an hour and another red flag was flying from the same staff and further trouble is feared.

Several weeks ago the socialists announced that as the red flag was not the flag of any country there was no law against it. Public sentiment was aroused and early this week two young men tore down the flag. They were replaced with another which was burned last night by persons alleged to be opposed to the socialists. Another red flag was flying when persons appeared on the streets this morning and it, too, was torn down and burned. The socialists threw the third flag to the breeze and this one, to prevent further disorder, the mayor ordered removed.

At noon the streets in the vicinity of the socialist headquarters were filled with people anxiously awaiting the next move of the authorities, while the socialists declared they were only standing on their rights and would resist any attempt to remove their banner.

ACTIVE COMPETITION

Great Northern R. R. and U. S. Steel Corp.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 7.—The Great Northern railroad interests are preparing to engage in active competition with the United States Steel Corporation on the Northern Minnesota range. On Jan. 1, 1915, according to the sixth annual report of the trustees of the road's iron ore properties, made public today. The report says:

"The release of these ore properties has made it possible for the company (referring to the trustees in their capacity as managers of the companies) to proceed with the development of the mines thereon. Contracts have been entered into for stripping the overburden of three of the leasehold properties which contain an aggregate of 28,121,455 tons of iron ore. This mine development will probably place the companies in position to mine and sell some ore during the year 1913, a large amount in 1914 and an increasing output during the year 1915 and thereafter."

DEFEAT WOMAN SUFFRAGE BILL

House of Commons
Defeats Measure
266 to 219

Irish Nationalists Against It—Asquith Threatens to Resign

LONDON, May 7.—The fate of the woman's suffrage bill was sealed last night by the vote of more than 50 Irish nationalists, who voted against it. The bill, whereby it was sought to enfranchise 6,000,000 women, was rejected by a majority of 47; the vote stood 266 to 219.

As the members of the house gathered for the afternoon session, news came of the latest outrage laid to the nationalists. This was the burning of St. Catherine's church, one of the finest in the suburb of Hitchen. The fire started mysteriously at noon and in an hour the edifice was in ruins.

Balloting on the measure came yesterday only after the most stirring and vigorous of speeches in opposition and support of the measure, during which Premier Asquith, arguing for the defeat of the bill, declared he would resign if his colleagues in the cabinet ever suggested that they did not feel justified in following a government, the head of which was opposed to them.

Whether there is any chance that the present parliament will pass a bill of more limited character may be doubted. Possibly the nationalists fear that if they allow a woman's franchise bill to pass the second reading it would lead to a parliamentary struggle which would end in a dissolution of parliament before the home rule bill gets on the statute books.

Furthermore, the debate yesterday proved that the militant policy of the suffragists has done the cause great harm as far as parliament is concerned. The reconciliation bill of last session was rejected by only a small majority compared with the Dickinson bill, which was under discussion yesterday, and previous bills, giving some measure of enfranchisement to women, have passed the second reading, although they never succeeded in running the gauntlet in subsequent stages.

Recent police court disclosures of acts of incendiarism planned by the militants for surpassing in magnitude anything heretofore attempted, and the burning of St. Catherine's church at Hitchen yesterday undoubtedly influenced many members to vote against the bill.

Bill's Defeat Popular

The figures of the division, showing the defeat of the bill, were greeted with a great cheer from all sides of the house. The debate, which on Monday proceeded with extraordinary unanimity in a thin house, was yesterday characterized by intensely and brilliant speeches. The house was crowded and pervaded with an atmosphere of electrical excitement. The strangers' galleries were packed, and many anxious faces peered from behind the grill-guarded gallery devoted to women.

BULL MOOSE HELD RALLY

Bird is Against Any Compromise

SPRINGFIELD, May 7.—Charles Sumner Bird, candidate of the progressive party for governor this fall, served emphatic notice on the republican party of this state in a speech here last night that under no circumstances whatever would he run as the candidate of the two parties on a compromise platform.

This declaration was construed as an answer to ex-Lieutenant Governor Luce and other republican leaders, who have been urging that the party support Mr. Bird for governor in the coming contest.

More than 1500 men and women gathered in the auditorium of the city hall, waved their handkerchiefs and cheered when the candidate for governor said that he refused to consider the republican party as a serious proposition, and predicted that the conflict in the democratic party would eventually result in the triumph of a stalwart conservative element of that party.

Mr. Bird made it plain that he would not run as the candidate of both the bull moose and the republican parties when he said:

"I cannot imagine any progressive being willing to run as the candidate of two parties on a compromise, composite platform and on a ballot composed of men representing different parties and different political principles."

One of the interesting facts developed at the meeting was that Mr. Bird is not an owner of the Boston Journal, which is the bull moose organ in the state. The bull moose candidate for governor paid a high tribute to the courage of Editor Matthew Hale in purchasing the Journal, but denied that he had any money invested in it.

The conference started shortly after noon with a meeting in the Hotel Worth, at which papers were read on a number of subjects. Captain Jack Crawford was a speaker at this meeting.

FOR PARK AND PLAYGROUND

Residents of West Centralville Advocating Project

Petition Will Be Presented to the Municipal Council

The question of a public park and playground in West Centralville is again being taken up by the residents of that section of the city, and accordingly a petition is being circulated among the voters for the purchase of the so-called Hildreth estate extending from Adams street to Riverview street, alongside of the Merrimack river. The same will be presented to the municipal council some time this week, for already the petition bears over two hundred names, the majority of which are business men.

The project for a public park and playground in that district has been agitated on several questions, and petitions have been presented to the council, but with no result. This tract of land which is mentioned in the last petition is a most desirable spot for a park and playground, for it is a natural park, being lined with fine trees. It is near the water's edge, and at present is the resort of many mothers who carry their children in their arms. As it is, however, it is not fit for such purpose on account of the bad smell arising from the dump, but it is the opinion of many that the cost of putting the place in shape would not be very large.

The petition is as follows: To the honorable municipal council of the city of Lowell: Respectfully represent the undersigned, citizens of that portion of Lowell known as Centralville, that public convenience and necessity and the health and well being of the inhabitants of that portion of the city require that the land belonging to Florence and Hildreth Nesmith and bounded easterly by the confidant owned by the city of Lowell, which confidant runs northeasterly by land of the proprietors of the Locks & Canals on Merrimack river, northerly by land recently purchased by said proprietors from Rowena Hildreth Nesmith and southerly by Island street, said land of Florence Hildreth Nesmith forming as it were, a natural park for the citizens of that portion of the city and natural playground for the children living there, be purchased by the city for a park and playground.

The petition is headed by the following names: Avila Desrosiers, 322 Cumberland road; Alexandre Germain, 585 Lakeview avenue; Wilfrid Cordeau, 585 Lakeview avenue; Felix, 357 Hill 53 Dalton street; J. A. Foley, 357 Hill 53 Dalton street; J. A. Foley, 357 Hill 53 Dalton street; and about 200 others.

A prominent business man of that district when seen by the writer stated this morning that it is about time the city supplied that section of Lowell with a park and playground. He said there are over a thousand children in that district, and that the children are crowded in the streets, and practically no place to breathe fresh air in summer time.

This party said that part of Lowell is rapidly increasing in real estate property and at the present time there are new buildings in the process of construction to the amount of over $25,000. As a proof he mentioned the following: Adolphe Bouchard, three-story apartment house constructed of cement blocks in Aiken avenue; Avila Desrosiers, two-apartment house in Cumberland road; Calixte Lepin, two-apartment in Fisher street; Charles E. Bourret, residence of eight rooms in Lakeview avenue; Simon Vendette, two-apartment house in West Sixth street; Henri Arsenault, two-apartment house in Sutherland street; Jacques Boisvert, ten houses in the vicinity of Carolyn and West Sixth streets, and several others.

He said the birth rate in ward six in which West Centralville is included, was much higher during the past year than in any other ward in the city. He also stated that the real estate valuation in West Centralville during the past year had increased to $60,000, and many residents were proposing to build in the near future. "The district is a congested one," continued the business man, "and its inhabitants have practically no place to breathe fresh air. The children are forced to play in the streets, exposed to great danger, and the only relief would be a park and playground which could be gotten at very little cost to the city, while it would afford great comfort and enjoyment for the children and mothers of that district." He concluded by saying he hopes the council this year will not reject the petition, and give the residents of West Centralville what they have been asking for a long time.

Dr. R. Minault, who has been elected as a member of the park board to succeed Judge J. J. Pickman, when seen by the writer this morning stated that he was much in favor of parks and playgrounds, and said West Centralville was certainly in need of one. He said he did not favor any particular spot, for he has not looked into the matter, but approves the idea of working for a park. He said he also believes in planting trees in various parts of the city, with the exception of the business districts, for trees are a great help to human beings, inasmuch as trees absorb carbon and reject oxygen, while human beings absorb oxygen and reject carbon. He said with him it is a matter of medical physiology, and for that reason he favors parks and playgrounds.

The residents of West Centralville have also another petition which they will soon introduce at city hall and that is for the macadamizing of Aiken avenue from Lakeview avenue to Hildreth street. One of the men who signed the petition said that the avenue was in a very good condition until the car line was installed there, at which time the pavement was torn off. The street was never put in its proper shape, and at the present time is covered with dust which is very disagreeable to the residents of that section. Hildreth street from Lillie avenue to Aiken avenue is also in bad shape and another petition for the macadamizing of that portion of the street has been in circulation for some time.

TRIAL OF JACK JOHNSON

Jury Box Emptied—The Jurors Approached

CHICAGO, May 7.—Stirring scenes were enacted yesterday in Federal Judge Carpenter's courtroom during the selection of a jury to try John Arthur Johnson to the charge of violating the Mann act, the particular instance being the alleged transportation of Belle Schreiber, former Milwaukee maudite, from Pittsburgh to Chicago for immoral purposes.

Prospective jurors were summarily examined when they delivered caustic opinions of relations between white and colored persons. There were broad hints that prospective jurors had been approached on behalf of the defendant, and the jury box was emptied several times, despite the insistence of men that they would give the government and the black pugilist a fair deal.

Attorneys for Johnson quizzed all prospective jurors closely on whether or not they had bet money on the Johnson-Jeffries fight or whether that event had affected any of their friends or relatives financially or otherwise. They were also asked if they bore any prejudice against a man because of his color or the fact that he was a prize fighter.

Important witnesses for the government are still missing, among them being Yank Kenney, Johnson's former trainer, who was expected to relate certain details of the training camps in California and Reno and also concerning Johnson's private training camp in Indiana. Federal agents have been hunting two days and nights for Kenney without the slightest trace of his whereabouts. Belle Schreiber is held a close prisoner in a downtown hotel, but was not permitted to go to the court room yesterday.

STATUE OF PRES. PIERCE

New Hampshire Senate Passes Bill

CONCORD, N. H., May 7.—Franklin Pierce, the only president of the United States from New Hampshire, seems assured at last of a statue by his native state. The senate yesterday passed a house bill providing for a $15,000 appropriation for the statue, to be erected on the state house grounds. Gov. Peck is expected to sign the measure.

The fact that Pierce was a democrat and a pro-slavery man has aroused such strong opposition to a statue for him that appropriation bills for the purpose have always been killed by the long succession of republican legislatures. The present legislature is democratic, the first in 40 years.

REVOLVER AT WOMAN'S HEAD

Robber Threatened to Kill Her If She Moved

Other Ransacked House While Husband Was Asleep

NORWOOD, May 7.—Two masked burglars entered the home of Joseph McCarthy at 7 School street yesterday morning, and while one of them held Mrs. McCarthy at the point of a revolver in the hallway of the home, the other ransacked the rooms.

The gunman held the revolver close to the woman's head and threatened to kill both her and her sleeping husband if she made an outcry. His "pal" deftly went through the bureau drawers and secured a small amount of money and then stole $50 from the trousers pockets of the sleeping man.

House Ransacked Before

The break in the second at the house within the past six months and in each instance the burglars have refused to take anything but money. Last Sunday night an attempt was made to enter the house and the burglars were frightened away and it is believed that the break yesterday was the work of men who were seen near the house on that night.

Mrs. McCarthy was awakened by the crying of one of her children and in passing through the hall to the room where her children were she suddenly came face to face with the burglars.

One of the men grabbed her before she had a chance to make an outcry and placed one hand on her throat and the other over her mouth. The men made an unsuccessful attempt to gag her, but when they were unable to find a suitable gag, one of them pulled a revolver and threatened her life, while the other went through the house. The burglars escaped.

MONTHLY MEETING

Directors of Lowell Humane Society Listen to Report of Agent Richardson

The directors of the Lowell Humane society held their regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon in their new quarters, 71 Central street, and listened to the monthly report of Agent Charles F. Richardson, which proved very interesting.

Mr. Richardson reported 31 cases of neglected children, four of non-support, three drunken parents warned and three prosecutions. He said the work among animals for the month was large. Three horses were killed, six overloaded horses were relieved, one horse was given proper shelter, one galled and sore horse was protected, three fallen horses were assisted, 11 lame horses were kept from work and 15 horses tormented by loose blinders were given relief.

There were 546 horses examined during the month besides those listed above. The transportation of animals on trains and animals in slaughter houses were looked after, including 113 cows, five sheep, 27 pigs, and 311 crated chickens and chickens in coops. There were 136 cats and 34 dogs killed. Five dogs were found good homes and five excavations were visited to look after working conditions of the horses. This was a total of 1212 animals looked after during the month of April.

A committee was appointed to find new quarters for the society on account of the plans of the new lessee of the building the society is now occupying.

people have an interest. "We must regard them as being chosen by popular election," he said, "to run the affairs of this large concern. The board of directors is interested in you both individually and collectively, but many things which may seem desirable to some of you look different to us. It is inevitable, therefore, that some times your wishes will not be complied with, but you remember that we are looking out for the interests of all equally, and we ask you to make your own opinions subservient to the greatest good of the greatest number. We must have a broad outlook and sink individual opinions. The committee has your best interests at heart but we ask for your co-operation. We are going to do a great deal but it is not near enough to what we are to accomplish it."

Mayor O'Donnell's Remarks

Mayor O'Donnell was the next speaker, and was enthusiastically received. He spoke as follows:

It gives me great pleasure, both as mayor of Lowell and personally, to be present as your guest on this charming occasion, to congratulate your organization upon its success, and to compliment you as teachers upon your excellent work, the results of which are apparent on all sides in the daily life of the community.

In a recent publication, I read, with considerable interest, an article concerning the mayor of Derby, England, who is an enthusiastic supporter of the school system. He has been acquainted with school conditions in his borough for a number of years, and he has made a tour of all the elementary schools and conducted his visits with a good deal of formality. In doing this he hoped not only to awaken public interest in the schools, but to arouse the interest in the children by giving them a short talk on the town's history and its characters. Unfortunately for the mayor of Derby he is not the mayor of Lowell, for as such he would have saved a vast amount of work, worry and inconvenience by the knowledge of the fact that his school system vies with the best in the country, and is equipped with a teaching force adequate to justify civic interest in the minds of these under. His care, thus making it necessary for him only to sanction the school department's appropriation, to distribute diplomas on graduation days, meet socially with the teachers on such delightful occasions as the present and giving him the remainder of the year to attend to the affairs of his own office.

I am a firm believer in arousing civic interest among school children. They are the citizens of the future, and now is the time to teach them to know and to take pride in their home city. The recent competition of the Lowell boys' societies was a move in the right direction and should be made a permanent feature. In the schools.
